Annual attendance stats released

The Church of England has released its annual statistics for 2012.

Overall in 2012, on average 1.05m people attended Church of England churches each week showing no significant change over the past decade. Figures for all age average weekly attendance show around one in five churches growing, and just over this number declining with 57% remaining stable.

In 2012 the Church of England conducted more than 356,000 services of baptism, wedding and funerals at an average of about 6,700 each week - almost 1,000 per day - marking the rites of passage in people's lives in communities across the country. Last year the Church of England baptised almost 140,000 people (2,700 per week), performing around 56,000 marriages in (1000 per week) and conducted 160,000 funerals (3,000 per week).

The 2012 figures also show that more than 100,000 young people aged 11 to 25 attended activities connected to the Church in 2012. Around 28,000 adults work voluntarily with young people aged 11-17 and around 2,000 are employed to do.

On Sunday 25th May

a Service will be held in Christ Church to remember 48,commando Royal Marines who did their training in Gravesend. 70 years ago they left this Church for D-Day, many of them were billeted in this area.

On the 25th during the 10am Service we will be remembering them

On the 28th October in 1664 The Royal Marines were formed as The Duke of Albany's Maritime Regiment of Foot so they are celebrating 350 years of the Royal Corp. We have many Battles Honours but only use one "Gibraltar"

First Steps

FIRST STEPS

First Steps

Is a service especially designed for families with pre-school children, although all children in the family are welcome to come.

We meet in the church at 1.45 pm on the second Wednesday in each month for a short service and then to enjoy a chat over a cup of tea.

We are finished in plenty of time for parents to meet their other children from school.

Why not come along with your children, you will be very welcome.

Next date is Wednesday 14 May.

Have you had a look on the Traidcraft table recently?

We have some new items for sale. You might see something that takes your fancy.

If there is something you would like to try but is not on the table have a word with John Hill

FIRST STEPS

9 TH APRIL 2014
EASTER IS COMING

We're up to a glorious sunny morning and our naughty little sheep is so pleased. It's the school holidays and we're not sure who to expect at our First Steps service today but at least the weather looks promising. Our naughty little sheep and his friends and I make our way up to church and it's lovely and warm in the sunshine. There's beautiful pink blossom in great bunches on the trees in the church yard and lots of lovely flowers. Our little patch of the world looks beautiful in all its springtime glory. Thanks be to God for such a lovely day!

In church the animals find themselves seats, hoping to get a cuddle when the children arrive. There will be a basket full of Easter eggs at the front and they want to keep an eye on them just in case those sneaky children get any ideas! When everything is ready our doors are opened and Ollie is first in with Nanna Maggie. We wonder for a bit if it's just going to be us, and we'll all have to sing really loudly and jingle up a storm but luckily others soon arrive to keep us company. Hooray! When everyone is settled, the candles are lit and our service begins. Our naughty little sheep and his friend the sparkly dragon are sitting quietly on our little altar, as usual. They do love to watch the children and not just because of the Easter eggs!

Today we're thinking about the coming of Easter and what an important time it is in our Christian calendar. Next week will be Holy Week, beginning on Palm Sunday, when we remember Jesus riding into Jerusalem on a donkey. What an exciting day that is with the crowd shouting "Hosanna" to Jesus, and throwing down palm branches and cloaks to carpet his path, just like a red carpet for a superstar. Of course all that excitement and adulation makes some people really hate Jesus and we see the result of all that on Good Friday when Jesus is killed, dying on the cross to pay for all the bad things that we do. But luckily for us Good Friday and the cross are not the end of the story of Jesus because God raises him from the dead. On Easter day we celebrate his risen life and his promise of new life for us, and it is indeed a special blessing for us all.

We sing about Jesus' wonderful love for us, shown most perfectly on Good Friday and how lucky we are that he is our most dear and precious friend. We sing about the beauty of the seasons and about Mother Hen, and chicks and eggs. Oops! We're thinking about eggs again, though not chocolate ones this time! We thank God for sending Jesus to us; for His great love for us; for the beauty of our world and for the blessed gift of life that He has given to us, to experience and enjoy in all its infinite variety. The children have had a great time singing and jingling bells and cuddling those animals. There is hardly a sound as we say our prayers and then, with our candles blown out, our service is over.

Everyone has been very good, even our naughty little sheep and those sneaky animals, so they all get an Easter egg. Out in the hall there are buttered hot cross buns to share too. Yum! And the weather is still so nice the children can go out into the garden to play. Oh what fun! We have all had such a good time together and we hope that everyone will be able to join us again for our next First Steps service on 14th May. My goodness the year is flying by, isn't it? Perhaps we'll have another lovely sunny day to enjoy.

God Bless

Archbishops' Evangelism task group meets for first time

The Archbishop of Canterbury, Justin Welby, has chaired the first meeting of the Archbishops' Evangelism Task Group at Lambeth Palace.

The group, which comprises about a dozen experts and practitioners in evangelism, has been set up following a debate on intentional evangelism at the General Synod in November. It intends to encourage and equip every church and Christian proclaim the good news of Jesus Christ.

During its inaugural meeting, the group considered how it can bring influence to bear on the church in the short, medium and long term.

The Archbishop of York, John Sentamu, said: “Next to worship, witness is the primary and urgent task of the Church. Compared with evangelism everything else is like rearranging furniture when the house is on fire. Making disciples is at the heart of our Christian faith and our Anglican tradition.”

The task group has been set up following a debate on intentional evangelism at the General Synod in November, and will be meeting a further four times in it's first year.

£20m repairs fund for Cathedrals

The Cathedrals Fabric Commission for England has warmly welcomed the announcement of a new two-year £20 million fund for repairs to cathedrals, announced in the Chancellor's Budget in March.

Cathedrals are a key part of forming the cultural identity of many of England's cities, and are powerful symbols of our shared history. But this does not mean they are just icons of the past. They are active community hubs and are at the centre of several urban regeneration plans, including Peterborough, Leicester and Blackburn, which are all creating cathedral quarters.

The Church of England's 42 cathedrals welcome more than 11m visitors a year with only 6,000 staff but more than 15,000 dedicated volunteers; demonstrating how much cathedrals contribute to, but also depend upon, the communities around them. CofE Cathedrals generate £350 million for the economy each year.

This has been part of their historical resilience. However despite this admirable support, upkeep and restoration costs often fall disproportionately on these small dedicated local groups. As a result the Church of England predicts a £87m repair funding shortfall over the next five years.

£20m of grants will help meet the costs of urgent repairs to these great buildings and support local fundraising efforts by Church of England and Roman Catholic Cathedrals.

The grant will be available over a two year period for Church of England and Roman Catholic Cathedrals in England. The Cathedrals Fabric Commission for England hopes that this will provide a foundation for further funding to ensure the future of some of this country's finest heritage assets.

Archbishop Justin hosts gathering of Religious Communities

The Archbishop of Canterbury Justin Welby welcomed more than 100 members of a broad range of Anglican religious communities to Lambeth Palace to discuss the renewal of Religious Life within the Church.

The conference brought together members of diverse religious communities – some centuries old, others newly emerging – that are bound together by a common commitment to prayer, community living, and a radical service of Christ, often in demanding social contexts.

The event marked a significant early step towards Archbishop Justin's vision for the renewal of prayer and the Religious Life, which he has declared as a core priority for his ministry. The Archbishop gave a keynote address setting out his vision to explain and encourage those gathered.

The conference, 'Religious Life and Renewal: Exploring Roots and Shoots', had three aims: to give members of religious communities around the country an opportunity to interact with Archbishop Justin's vision for the renewal of Religious Life; to receive affirmation and build vision together; and to seek to reinvigorate and re-imagine connections between religious communities and the church's structures.

The Bible Reading Fellowship have a booklet called "New Daylight" which sets out a short Bible reading and explanatory notes. These booklets are priced at £4.00 (they do go up each year) for a four month period.

If you would like to try one of these booklets please let Julie Hill know.

WORKING PARTY

'In order to save on expensive cleaning and maintenance, we hold a monthly working party on a Saturday morning starting at 09.30.

Together we clean and tidy the church, do a bit of necessary DIY or gardening, have a coffee and often some home-made goodies – and finish by about 11.30.

We are enormously grateful to the few loyal helpers who turn up month after month – but we desperately need a few more.

Please consider putting the dates into your diary and coming along. All are welcome – if you can do basic DIY please let us know in advance so that the churchwardens can plan jobs in advance.

Working party is almost always on the 2nd Saturday of each month...

NOTE the next one will be on 10 May at 9.30.

See you there, Sue

Do you or members of your family have any interesting stories from World War 1

As part of the national commemorations of WW1 we are looking to reproduce stories that congregation members might like to submit of their relatives, or local men, who engaged in the conflict!

If you have a family story, perhaps with a photograph of the person you are writing about that you would like to be considered for inclusion in an edition of Christ Church magazine over the next four years please let Sue Brewer or Mike Cubitt know.

We are hoping to get enough copy to enable a different story to be produced in the magazine during the four year anniversary period.

All photographs will be returned, but please mark on the back your name and address.

A thousand poppies to bloom for Great War Centenary

Poppies will be grown in the grounds of parish churches and Church of England schools across the country as an act of remembrance for the centenary of World War 1.

The Archbishops of Canterbury and York are both urging church schools and churches to plant poppy seeds with them on April 30 to commemorate the centenary of World War One and help make poppies bloom across the country.

The Archbishop of York, Dr John Sentamu said: "I encourage parishes and church schools across the country to join together to make many thousand flowers bloom as a tribute to the sacrifice of past generations Here in the grounds of Bishopthorpe, we too, are getting behind this community initiative. I have been inspired by the parishes of the new Diocese of Leeds (West Yorkshire and the Dales) and their shared efforts to mark the 100th anniversary of the Great War." Some dioceses - like Oxford, Exeter, Manchester and the new Diocese of West Yorkshire and the Dales - have sent packets of poppy seeds to all their churches and/or church schools to create their own memorial gardens or flower pots.

Packs of Flanders poppies are on sale and can be bought at B&Q for £2 with a pound being donated to the RBL.

FROM RECENT EDITION OF

“IN REVIEW”

Sir Hector Sants talks responsible savings and credit

Sir Hector Sants, former Chief Executive of the Financial Services Authority, says the church has a role to play in promoting the responsible use of credit and savings in the community, in an interview available online.

The task force for Responsible Credit and Saving, which is headed up by Sir Hector, was set up by the Archbishop of Canterbury and will develop the Church of England's on-going support for local credit unions while working with the wider financial sector to build support for more competitive and community-based financial services.

He asks how the church can help on the ground: “We are very conscious that there's a lot of tremendously good work already going on in the area of helping people responsibly use credit and responsibly save and we want to make sure we learn and take advantage of all that experience that's out there. And work with all those individuals who are already delivering on the ground on behalf of their communities.”

“We want to be seen as a practical group of individuals. We want to focus on things the Church can actually do, and we want to deliver change on the ground. We don't just want to think about it as a wider philosophical question, so the focus will be on action on the ground, action in communities.”

THE MUSTARD SEED

THE Mustard Seed aims to provide an informal and friendly tea at 3.00 pm on the third Thursday of every month in Christ Church hall.

It is a venture that offers the opportunity to meet new friends and reminisce about old times.

The Mustard Seed, as the parable says (Mark4; 3-32) is very small - like dust - but has the potential to develop into one of the largest plants.

Please join us as we plant the Mustard Seed and assist to make it flourish. Who knows what may happen!

The Mustard Seed is in its second year now, and the next gathering will be on Thursday 15 May You are so welcome.

For further details please contact any member of the pastoral care team. Pastoral assistants Pam Kilby, Colin Parsonson, Jasmine Humphries or Curate Jo Drew
