Earliest date- documentary: 1263
Earliest date- structural: Medieval stonework in lower part of tower. Evidence of 12 th cent building found during 19 th cent restoration consisted of reused stones, including parts of a small arch, probably a doorway, with chevron ornament, and door and window jambs.
Phasing- extensions and contractions: 13 th cent church had nave, north and south aisles, tower and spire, crypt beneath nave and vaulted crypt at west end of south aisle. Lower part of tower original. Medieval crypt at west end of south aisle originally covered by a low groined vault, entered by plain pointed doorway. Crypt under chancel- no vault, floor and lower parts of walls cut into bedrock. 17 th cent church had chancel with crypt under, nave and north and south aisles. Medieval ribbed vault of south-west crypt replaced in brick, probably 18 th cent- remaining medieval features were corner springers and several courses of sandstone masonry. Whole building with exception of spire was encased in brick in 1690. Whole of church, except for tower, rebuilt in 14 th cent style in 1873-75. Walls of church at time of restoration were on the old foundations- plan of medieval church was nave, chancel, north and south aisles and tower at north-west corner.
Floor levels raised or lowered: 1873- Medieval nave many feet lower than later nave.
Other works: Red sandstone foundations of medieval church found during construction of church hall 1954. South-west crypt opened and recorded in 1974. More than one style and one colour of sandstone represented in surviving medieval springers. Footing of north wall of tower exposed in excavations 2001. Parish rooms 1954-57, extended 2002-03.
Site moved: No
Churchyard: Possibly originally circular churchyard. Churchyard curvilinear on 18 th cent maps. High cross in churchyard mentioned 1494. Earlier phases of churchyard wall found when railings erected 1781. Excavation of graveyard to north and west of church 2001 recorded 857 burials, mainly of the late 18th and 19 th cents. The majority were in wooden coffins in earth-cut graves. 35 brick-lined graves and vaults were recorded. There was much disarticulated bone, some of which had been placed in charnel pits.
Surroundings: In medieval town. Medieval well nearby.

Earliest date- documentary: First gasworks 1818
Earliest date- structural: Existing retort house 1822
Phasing- extensions and contractions: Canal basin extended between 1824 and 1827. Extension and coal store built on west side of retort house 1828. Four gasometers shown on map of c1855.
Floor levels raised or lowered: Observation in 2001 showed that the bases of cast iron columns on south side of retort house rested on a brick wall incorporating four semi-circular arches, interpreted as retort bases. The original floor level inside the retort house was 1.5m below the present floor level, and there was a major change in level to its north, where the original exterior surface was about 4m below the present ground level.
Other works: Observation in 2001. On the south wall of the retort house a former canopy extending 3m from the wall was indicated by an empty slot about 2.5m from the top of each cast-iron column, with a right-angled support beneath. The canopy is identified as the "Coke Shade" listed in an inventory of the site in 1825.
Site moved: No
Churchyard: None
Surroundings: Demolition and site clearance in 1995 exposed the side walls of the canal basin to the north of the retort house, identified as the basin shown on a map of c.1855 running under Gas St from the Worcester & Birmingham Canal. Excavation in 2001 showed that the remains of all three gasholders shown on the map of c1855 in the SE of the site were well preserved. These have been preserved under a new building by a piling design. A brick tar pit was found near the central of the three gas holders in 2001. The west boundary wall of the site, except for its northern end, has been retained. A gas holder and surrounding walls were recorded on the Berkley Street side of the site in 1999 prior to destruction by development.

Earliest date- documentary: Priest mentioned in 1200. Possible minster church.
Earliest date- structural: Lower part of tower late 12th cent/ early 13th cent. Norman window and string-course in east wall of south aisle (west wall of tower). Two narrow round headed windows on ringers' floor of tower belfry mentioned 1876. Original nave may have been where present south aisle is.
Phasing- extensions and contractions: Line of chancel and part of its south wall are part of medieval church. 15th cent arch on west of tower was cut through Norman walls. Some early 16th cent work in north chapel. North aisle formerly extended from north chapel to whole length of nave. 18th cent illustration and plan of 1818 shows nave with aisles to north and south, tower at end of south aisle. Rebuilding 1820 included rebuilding north arcade and aisle and addition of south transept. South-east chapel added 1826. 1876-80, south aisle rebuilt, church extended to west and chancel extended to east, north transept narrowed and outer north aisle added. North chapel includes medieval piscina.
Floor levels raised or lowered: Concrete raft laid in 1876 restoration/rebuilding.
Other works: Observation of removal of 19th cent floor tiles at west end of south aisle in 1996 for relaying showed that they lay on a sandy rubble levelling deposit 0.25m thick over sandy loam at least 0.50m thick which contained many fragments of bone and represents part of the former graveyard over which the church was extended in the 19th century.
Site moved: No
Churchyard: Original burial ground to south of church. Land forming north and west of churchyard was originally part of glebeland , given for burial ground in 19th cent
Surroundings: Moat to east (in Moat Meadow). 19th cent houses nearby. Former fishponds to west.
Site observation	By: MH	Date: 9/7/15
Earliest date (visible structures): South wall of chancel, as far as 1876-80 eastern extension, is thicker than 19th cent walls and is probably the original chancel or north nave wall. Alignment of west wall of tower slightly skew, suggesting it may have been the west end of the original church. Possible 13th century plinth on south side of tower.
Phasing- extensions and contractions: 16th cent work in north chapel includes reused stone.
Heating ducts: Along centre of nave and possibly centre of aisles and along west end of nave and aisles and along outer north aisle. Grills along east part of north aisle and north-east chapel.
Internal graves/vaults: 16th cent effigies in north chapel. Wall slabs on wall of outer north aisle. Wall slabs in north transept refer to vaults. Wall memorials refer to burial in sanctuary. Wall slab refers to vault under south side of altar. References to vaults under tower.

Overall Assessment	By: MH	Date: 9/11/15
Possibly good survival of interior deposits under concrete raft laid in 1876.
Research Questions
Could the west wall of the tower be the original west wall of the church, therefore the tower and present south chapel are on the site of the original nave? Or was the tower originally a transept? Are there any remains of a pre-Conquest minster church?
