Psalm 139: 1-4 "O Lord, you have searched me

And you know me.

You know when I sit and when I rise;

You perceive my thoughts from afar.

You discern my going out and my lying down;

You are familiar with all my ways.

Before a word is on my tongue

You know it completely, O Lord."

"My 'Guardian angel'". "My conscience pricked". "He reads my mind". "He's got the devil in him".

Are not these everyday sayings just part of the battle over our souls waged by Satan and God? Do you ever get the feeling that someone knows what you are about to say? Identical twins are said to 'feel' their sibs woes even though they maybe miles apart.

Whatever the explanation the Psalmist has it right. God knows us; knows our strengths and weaknesses. He knows we can not hide. If we can accept Him into our hearts he will guide us, strengthen us in the dark times, and rejoice with us in the good. We must have faith and listen to Him.
