Prayers for This Week

In our prayers this week please remember the following:

- the many people who are losing their jobs, and for businesses making difficult decisions;
- families who are worried about making ends meet and the volunteers and staff at local Food Banks;
- those who have been able to take a holiday that they may return refreshed, and for those taking their holiday at home;
- The families of those who were killed or injured in the explosion in Beirut;
- our local situation as the number of Covid cases increases, and that people will follow the guidelines;
- our church here in Denholme and the other churches throughout the Benefice as we once again open for worship, and our ministry team and all the volunteers who make it possible

Opening for Worship - last week because of the introduction of local restrictions it was felt prudent to cancel, however this Sunday we are really excited to have our first service back in the building since March. Entry will be by the side door only, and we want you to stay safe so please follow the advice given on arrival, and it has now become mandatory for people to wear masks in church. It may not be the right time for everybody to return, and indeed the restrictions in place mean that not everyone can gather at the same time. We will be continuing our online provision and the written service sheets for a good while to come, so that everyone is still able to join together in worship whether they are at home or in church. Advance booking for the services at church is essential, please reply on the form previously circulated to Helen Ludkin or contact Judith. Don't worry if you book then can't come, however it would be helpful if you could ring Judith beforehand to let her know, even if it is on the morning itself.

More opportunities to view streamed services - look for details on the Benefice Facebook page, it is hoped that the Service of Holy Communion taking place this Sunday at Denholme will be available for you to view.

Benefice Fantasy Football Competition - congratulations to Phil Horsfall for winning the competition. Full results included with this newsletter and a form if you want to select your teams for the next season.

URC Moderator - we have received an invitation to the on-line Induction Service of Revd Jamie Kissack to the role of Yorkshire Synod Moderator on Saturday 5th September at 2pm. Please contact Judith if you are interested.

Poppies - can you gather together any knitted poppies you may have, we still need more so please continue with the knitting and contact Janice if you need wool.

Online Holiday Club for Children - the Zephaniah Trust are freely sharing their virtual holiday club sessions. Find them on Facebook for a link to stories, craft and ideas for games.
