It's an incredible sum from such a small community.

SAVE THE DATE ~ School 50th Anniversary Celebrations.

Kirkby and Great Broughton School will be celebrating it's official 50th birthday in October this year. As well as celebrations with the children in school, we hope to invite past pupils to a special 'coffee morning' on Saturday 5th October. More details will be posted on the Kirkby & Great Broughton Facebook page nearer the time.

We are also hoping to create a book of memories detailing the history of our school including photos, press clippings and memories. If you have any expertise in putting together a book like this we would love to hear from you.

I can be contacted on admin@kirkby-in-cleveland.n-yorks.sch.uk

We are looking forward to sharing our birthday with you.

Kirby, Great Broughton & Ingleby Greenhow Local History Group

The local history group has several major projects afoot this summer.

Some members are planning to explore the history of the Deserted

Medieval Village of Little Broughton, others are working on History

Information boards for each village and yet another group is hoping to support the village school in celebrating its 50th Anniversary. On October 4th 1974, the present school building was officially opened by the then Archbishop of York, Dr Donald

Coggan. We have one cheery, informal photo of the event from a newspaper clipping, but only one. If you or your children were at the village school in October 1974, please search the attics for photos and contact the school or any member of the history group if you find one. Finally, we are not having a display at Stokesley

Show this year, but will be preparing for an exhibition in GBVH on Saturday

19th October instead.

N.B. Our regular talks resume on Monday 16th September when Catherine Warr will tell us about "Three Yorkshire Women". All welcome, visitors £5.
