Leading with Integrity (Rev Christine Kerr)

Our audio Encounter today is by Rimario Jones (15) one of our young men at NTCG Walsall. Rimario leads us today to consider how each one of us have a call to lead with integrity, in our home first and in other ways which can lead others to Christ.

Rimario shares how it begins with maintaining a right heart and attitude, even when it is a challenge. He explains how being available to help and support, to listen and address issues is also part of how we lead with integrity.

Rimario teaches us that leading with integrity comes as we put God first, then our family and other things. He encourages us to maintain personal integrity in showing love, respect, honesty, morality, and responsibility, in home, in community and church life – doing what's right even when no-one else sees.

Using the example of Joseph, in the Bible, Rimario reveals how your personal integrity, demonstrated in the home or even your church family, can bring you before Kings! Most importantly, our integrity is a gift God will use to help us bring others to Christ.

Prayer: Father, thank You for the lives I will touch today, as You help me lead with integrity. Amen
