FOREWORD and HISTORY

This book is for the use of relatives and friends of the deceased buried in St James's Churchyard who wish to find a record of the burial, and if listed, the location of the grave itself. It is also for those interested in the history of the Churchyard and the Hampton Hill area, and possibly for other research.

The original plan of the Churchyard was drawn up in the 1960s by Denis Leatherdale. Roy Brooks, Jack Gostling and Denis Leatherdale were appointed Guardians of the Churchyard. There is a plan of each individual grave in the Churchyard with the name and number. For area G there exists a separate plan with names only but it is not entirely accurate and we are unsure of its origin. In 1988 a Working Party set out in earnest to try and correlate the information in the five Burial Registers with the actual graves and give each grave a number. An alphabetical card index system was set up, the details of each grave were recorded on separate sheets and an alphabetical list was started with the intention of producing a typed copy for easy reference. This task was taken up again in 1998, computerised plans of the Churchyard produced and an alphabetical list of the 4000+ people recorded in the Burial Register prepared. There are about 1000 graves identifiable in the Churchyard.

The churchyard was closed by Order in Council in 1991 as there was no more space for new graves. After 1991 there have only been burials in existing graves, ashes interred in family graves and in the Garden of Rest. The Churchyard is now cared for by the London Borough of Richmond-upon-Thames.

Christian graves are always orientated longways East to West, that is to face the rising sun. The headstones usually also face East although there are exceptions to this; when the grave is by a path the headstone may be reversed so that it can be seen more easily.

To assist searches for individual graves, the plans are divided into areas A to G. This division is shown on the plan "Churchyard Areas". The plans of each area, eg "Plan of Graves in Area A", show the numbering of the graves. The numbering of rows is not the conventional left to right, but instead follows a right to left order which conforms with the original listing. The page, (or pages), following each plan, eg "Names in Area A" list the graves in order with the names of those interred or commemorated in it. Special graves are marked with the letter S in the notes column in the List of Names. Brief notes on these special graves are in the section "Special Notes . . ." page 4 of this book.

The Garden of Rest, Area H, is used solely for the interment of uncontaminated ashes, with no individual markers in it. Area H is a special area within Area B, as the plan of area B shows. It is well marked and tended, with a small garden at either end.

The earliest burial in this record is that of Walter Richard Daines, aged 11 months, in 1864. This is in Area A near the noticeboard on the corner of Park Road and St James's Road. In the early Registers there are records of a considerable number of children who died due to bad housing and insanitary conditions at that time. In the earliest Burial Register the area is known as New Hampton and only changes to Hampton Hill in 1881.

The Churchyard originally comprised only the area which immediately surrounded the church. In 1882, in the light of the growing population of the new parish, the Vicar of Hampton, the patron, gave an acre of land adjoining Park Road to be used as a parish burial ground. The Churchyard was further extended in 1924, including part of the Vicarage ground. The Churchyard now covers an area of about 3 acres. Footpaths run through the churchyard, but there are no public rights of way.

The War Memorial in the centre of the Churchyard was unveiled on 26 May 1920 and features the Roll of Honour of those who died in the two World Wars.

Another special area is within Area D, grave numbers 1D3, 4D7, 4D8, 5D5 to 5D14 inclusive, and 6D6. These commemorate Canadian soldiers who died of their war wounds in a local hospital during or shortly after the First World War. These graves were lovingly tended for very many years by Ron Metcalfe whose ashes are now buried near the graves. There is a fine Canadian maple tree near these graves.

The Garden of Rest, Area H in Area B, was created in 1969. The first ashes to be interred there were those of Jessie Straw, mother of Doris Childs, on 8 June 1969.

Only the current Burial Register, March 1948 onwards, is kept in the Church. The other four Registers are deposited in the London Metropolitan Archives, 40 Northampton Road, Clerkenwell, London EC1R 0HB, Tel number 020 7332 3820.

Thanks are due to all those who have helped over the years with recording information from the graves. Particular mention should be made of Helen Taylor who initiated the alphabetical recording and organized the working parties in 1988; also to Richard Denton, Jill Goddard and Peter Nunn who gave much time in the final checking procedures. The final preparation of this book, with the plans and listings, has been undertaken by Janet Nunn and Dick Wilde. Inevitably some information is difficult to collate and the inscriptions on some graves are difficult to read.

We trust this document will be both of value and interest. The Parochial Church council is very grateful to those who have worked so industriously to produce this record.

Guide to the alphabetical List of Names pages A1 to Z1

The list of names is alphabetical by surname, the same surnames are listed chronologically by date. The dates are normally the recorded date of burial, in a few cases they are the actual date of death.

Burials are recorded up to December 1999. The churchyard was closed for burials on the 31st October 1990, except for the burial of ashes and special burials in reserved plots.

Ashes interred in family graves and the Garden of Rest are recorded up to December 1999. Symbols in the list are explained below.

In the column 'Grave': the letter denotes the area of the churchyard, and the numbers the column and row location of the grave within the area. The plans of the individual areas should help any search.

In the 'Notes' column:

@ Date of death (otherwise date of burial)

* Died in Action

** War grave - Canadian soldier. These graves are all in area D

AFG Ashes in Family Grave

AGR Ashes in Garden of Rest. This is area H, within the larger area B
The interment date is given in the record, not the date of death.

+ Probable place of burial - no entry in Burial Register

UG Unmarked grave: a letter following the grave number indicates the position of one or more remains

While every effort has been made by several people to check the Registers and lists we cannot be certain of its complete accuracy.
