A Journey through the Bible with Tiglath.

83.The Book of Proverbs, Chapters 1 - 4

The 31 chapters of this book are very interesting, consisting of pithy sayings and moral advice for the young. Much of the Book is attributed to Solomon, who was noted for his wisdom, and some of the Book was written after the exile, 593 BCE. The Book is in poetic form and tells us how to manage our lives and also tells us the purpose of life and the wisdom of Godly living. The Book has five main themes: wisdom, relationships, speech, work and success. We shall travel through the Book chapter by chapter and I will point out and perhaps comment on sayings which interest me.

Chapter 1. Verses 1, 2 tell us the purpose of the Proverbs, namely 'to know wisdom and instruction and to perceive the words of understanding.' Verse 7 is very famous: 'The fear of the Lord is the beginning of knowledge (wisdom).' Verses 10 to 18 advise young people not to be led astray by sinners. Verses 25 to 33 tell what happens when we hate knowledge and do not choose the fear of the Lord. The word 'fear' here means reverence.

Chapter 2. Verses 2 to 12 advise us to seek after wisdom: 'Thou shalt understand righteousness and judgement and every good path'. Verses 13 to 19, 22 tell what happens to us when we rejoice and do evil.

Chapter 3. Verse 3 has this beautiful instruction: 'Let not mercy and truth forsake thee: bind them about thy neck; write them upon the table of thine heart.' How often do we find a lack of mercy e.g. among terrorists. Do read and ponder on verses 13 to 26 which stress the joy of seeking wisdom. Verse 35: 'The wise shall inherit glory, but shame shall be the promotion of fools.'

Chapter 4. In the beginning of this chapter Solomon tells us how his father instructed him: 'he taught me also and said unto me: Let thine heart retain my words; keep my commandments and live.'

As we read through Proverbs we realise what a recipe it is for living a really worthwhile life, whether we are Christians or not. When I was a housemaster I did a lot of work on careers with my pupils. Some police officers came from London who were seeking to recruit pupils who had some 'O levels in common sense.' I knew exactly what they meant. One can often substitute the words 'common sense' for wisdom.

Now that we have learned some of the teaching and advice of the Book of Proverbs I hope you will join me next time on this most interesting section of our journey.

Paul's 1st and 2nd Epistles to the Thessalonians

Thessalonica is the capital city of the Roman province of Macedonia and is located on the main route between Italy. In eastern Macedonia there was a busy seaport with a population of about 200,000. The church there had been founded by Paul and Silas, although Paul had begun his ministry in the city synagogue - winning over some of his Jewish hearers and God fearing gentiles. He had to flee the city because of opposition Acts 17:1-9. The first Thessalonian epistle therefore seems to have been written from Corinth and records the sending of Timothy back to Thessalonica with an encouraging report of the faith of the church there Acts 3:6-13.

The dominant theme of both of the epistles is the second coming of Christ and its implications for Christian living. Paul assures his readers that believers who had already died will not be denied eternal life but will be raised at the second coming:

'brothers we do not want you to be ignorant about those who fall asleep.....We believe that Jesus died and rose again and that God will bring with Jesus those who have fallen asleep in Him' 1 Thess. 4:13,14

In his second letter Paul teaches about divine judgement, which will happen at Christ's second coming:

'...this will be revealed when the Lord Jesus comes from heaven in blazing fire with His angels' 2 Thess.1: 6

Whereas the first epistle proclaimed the resurrection of the righteous from the dead, the emphasis of the second epistle is to retain the faith, free from idleness and the deception of others, as believers await the second coming. This is an important teaching, still relevant nearly 2000 years later, as we today await the return of Christ.

Ian Silcox

'If any man will come after me, let him deny himself, and take up his cross daily, and follow me.' Luke, 9.23

God bless you all

Geoff Willetts

The Rectory, Lifton 01566 784228

Dear Friends,

REMAIN ... OR LEAVE...?
or, to be more precise;
TO BE IN THE EU OR OUT OF THE EU ...?
THAT IS THE QUESTION!

It surely cannot have escaped anyone's attention that this is the question we are being asked to consider and which will be the subject of a National referendum on the 23rd. June.

Not a day goes by without members of both the "Remain" and the "Leave" campaigns offering their opinions and suggesting which way we should cast our vote.

Talking with a friend recently, he wondered if we are sufficiently qualified to vote at all – the issue of our membership of the EU is complex and perhaps most of us have inadequate knowledge of the true facts and what our future might look like whether we choose to remain in the EU or to leave. He has a point...! Speakers and writers from every area of public life are giving us their opinions on the future of Britain whether it remains in the EU or chooses to leave – subjects including trade, finance, security, immigration, jobs, fisheries, agriculture, industry and more fill the media. Opinions are divided – and for every argument put forward by one side a counter-argument is provided by the other.

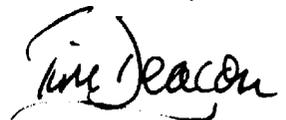

I was hoping that by now we might have been provided with comprehensive and positive information and guidance on the merits of either remaining in or leaving the EU – but it seems to me that all we are getting is negative (in some cases, even 'apocalyptic') images of the future either in or out of the EU! None of this is particularly helpful as we approach the day of the Referendum and our response to the question. In the final analysis it will probably be our own feelings, experiences and opinions that will govern the way we vote.

Whatever our decision – we must cast our vote on the 23rd. June. It is our (hard-fought for) democratic right to express our opinion in this way. It is also the virtue of democracy that if the vote doesn't go the way we hoped we shall still live and work and worship with those who voted differently.

It would be entirely wrong of me to tell you which way to vote, and inappropriate of me to tell you how I shall be voting myself. All I can suggest is that we would do well to make this whole question the subject of our prayers and seek to discern the Lord's guidance in what is clearly a momentous question being asked of us all.

I wish you every blessing as you come to your decision, in the confidence that the Lord who is the Way, the Truth and the Life will enable and inspire us to live with the consequences of whatever decision is reached through the Referendum.

Offering you my prayers and God's blessing

A CHILD'S FOOTSTEPS TO FAITH

Go and Tell

What do you do when someone does something nice for you? Well, the most important thing you should do when someone does something nice for you is to say, "Thank you." At our house, we always keep a good supply of thank you cards so that we will not forget. I hope you will always remember to say, "Thank you" when someone does something nice for you. Another thing you should do is to tell others about the nice things that person has done for you.

Jesus spent his life on earth doing good things for people. He was loving, kind, and compassionate. The Bible tells us that he came not to be served, but to serve others and to give his life for them. Wherever Jesus went, he healed the sick and the lame. He gave sight to the blind and hearing to the deaf. Why, he even raised some from the dead! Sometimes the people remembered to say, "Thank you" and sometimes they forgot.

Thank You!!!

In our Bible lesson today, Jesus met a man who was controlled by evil spirits. He had not worn clothes for a long time and he did not live in a house, but spent his days and nights roaming among the tombs and in the mountains. People in the town where he lived were afraid of him and tried to bind him with chains, but he was so strong that he broke the chains.

Jesus saw that the man was tormented and he felt compassion for him. There was a large herd of pigs on the hillside nearby, so Jesus let the evil spirits enter into the pigs, and the entire herd ran into the lake and drowned.

After Jesus freed the man from the evil spirits, he was like a different person. People saw the man sitting at Jesus' feet, fully clothed and speaking calmly. He was so happy that he wanted to go with Jesus and follow him wherever he went, but Jesus told the man to go back to his home and tell everyone what God had done for him. The Bible tells us that the man went back and told all the people in the city what great things Jesus had done for him.

You and I should always remember to give thanks for all that Jesus has done for us. The greatest gift we have ever received is the gift of eternal life. Jesus made this gift possible by his death on the cross. We should also tell others what he has done for us so that they might come to know the he loves them too.

Our Father, we thank you for all that you have done for us. We are especially thankful for the gift of eternal life through Jesus Christ, your son. Help us to always show our gratitude and tell others how much you have done for us. In Jesus' name we pray. Amen.

Go and Tell

"Return home and tell how much God has done for you." So the man went away and told all over town how much Jesus had done for him. Luke 8:39 (NIV)

Nature Notes by Bluebell - June 2016

Ever at this time in late May, Bluebell watches the white petals of cherry blossom drift through the air to the green grass below, their light fall intercepted by little birds swinging across the lawn. Stillness fills her heart and these lovely lines fill her head!

*"Brightness falls from the air;
Queens have died young and fair;"*

Thomas Nashe; 1567-1601; In Time of Pestilence

A new miracle occurs every day in May.. a new bud unfurls, new blossoms seem to open every hour, the bluebells are wonderful, in the woods a blue haze of beauty, the chestnut candles, stitchwort, orchids, pink campion, white cow parsley, violets, primroses, ferns, daisies...Bluebell totally agrees with John Clare, who wrote in 'The Shepherd's Calendar':

*My wild field catalogue of flowers
Grows in my rhymes as thick as showers
Tedious and long as they may be
To some, they never weary me.*

Queen European Hornets, Vespa crabro, are now emerging. Lone survivor of the winter hibernation, she may sometimes be found in the house, looking for the right spot to begin building the new nest colony. The nests are made of chewed up wood pulp, like papier mache. The study of wasp and hornet nests led man first to discover the way to make paper, by mashing up cellulose from plants. Scraped lines can be seen on wooden beams where hornets have removed a layer of wood. She starts with hexagonal cells which are swathed with envelopes, irregular looped bands with pockets. They hang upside down in darkness. She lays an egg in each cell, glued within. A tiny crystal is attached to the roof of each cell, perhaps to help orientation. The crystals vibrate if the ground shakes. The first eggs pupate, metamorphose and hatch to become infertile female workers who continue to build and look after the nest. Later in summer the queen produces reproductive individuals, new queens, and drones or males. They fly and mate in late summer. The males die, with the rest of the colony in autumn, except a few new mated queens. Hornet stings are extremely painful, they are used to kill prey and defend hives. The creatures are frightening, though not usually aggressive, queens being about two inches long, with a loud, deep buzz. One sting does not usually kill a human unless an allergic reaction occurs, or a lot of hornets attack. The sting can be used repeatedly, having no barb. If you find one in the house, it can be caught in a shrimping net, or on a piece of stiff paper under a glass tumbler, and released outside. Advice is to keep well away from nests.

*"He prayeth well, who loveth well
Both man and bird and beast.
He prayeth best, who loveth best
All things both great and small;
For the dear God who loveth us,
He made and loveth all."*

Samuel Taylor Coleridge; 1772-1834; The Ancient Mariner

Even hornets and wasps!

GARDEN NOTES BY 'DIGGER'

I sometimes think that we gardeners don't realise what is happening to the British climate. In a few words, it is becoming warmer. This can make quite a difference to what we grow. French wine producers in the north of their country are aware of what is going on across the English Channel, as they see our wine producers growing grapes from which they are winning awards in international competitions. I have written this because on my last holiday in eastern France I was interested to notice how many gardens, large and small, had rows of vines – even training some to grow on border fences. Grapes grow very well in our area e.g. there is a vineyard at Lewdown. If your site gets plenty of sunlight and is well drained why not have a go? Vines are on sale at some local nurseries. There are books available to describe vine growing in England. They will also tell you what varieties grow well here. What a thrill to offer your friends a glass of wine produced from your own, mini vineyard. We are thinking of planting some vines in the grounds of my nursing home. The gardener is coming to see me about it this week.

My window ledge and table are covered with plants and containers growing seedlings. Some of the staff are very interested and like to help with watering etc. Some wish to learn about growing plants from seeds.

This is the month for planting leeks. When we were kept indoors by snow and ice in the hard winters of years ago leeks were a godsend. I've even dug them out of frozen ground with a pick-axe. They have to be planted in individual holes and just watered in. At this time I also used to sow a few seeds of my favourite flowers into deep seed trays where they could grow into sturdy plants for placing in the garden in September.

These are some of my favourites: wallflowers, Sweet Williams, Canterbury Bells, fox gloves, pansies and poppies.

HOTEL ENDSLEIGH GARDENS OPEN DAY

Milton Abbot Church PCC would like to extend a huge thank you to Hotel Endsleigh for their enormous generosity in allowing us to hold our church fundraiser again. This annual event is proving to be very popular and one which helps to boost much needed funds for the maintenance of the church.

We also would like to say a big thank you to all the businesses who have given us raffle prizes, those who donated money and most importantly to all of you who came along to support us and to all those who helped us run the event. With this great continued support we have raised a profit of over £1,700 for Milton Abbot Church.

Thank you again.

Unlock the history of your land

FREE Insured detectorist surveys undertaken

- What activities were happening on your land in past centuries?
- Help to find your lost tools and valuables.
- Location of metal objects that may be hazardous to livestock.
- 100% of all finds reported to the landowner.
- References available on request.

Free searches in full compliance with the NCMD Code of Conduct

"A responsible metal detectorist with a love of the countryside and local history"

Organised searches of your land to raise funds for local good causes can be also be arranged.

Extract from the NCMD Code of Conduct

The searcher enters the land at the searcher's own risk.

The searcher shall report all worthwhile finds to the landowner within a reasonable time of being found in accordance with the landowners wishes.

The searcher shall report any bombs, missiles, live ammunition or human remains discovered, to the landowner and to the police.

Archaeological discoveries will be reported to the landowner in the first instance. The information will then be passed on to the Portable Antiquities Scheme, local museum or archaeological body providing the landowner agrees.

Potential treasure discoveries will be reported to the landowner in the first instance providing this can be achieved within fourteen days. In any event the Coroner will be informed within fourteen days as prescribed by The Treasure Act.

All finds (or the value thereof) and treasure awards will be shared equally between the searcher and landowner.

The searcher shall take great care to: work tidily, avoid hindrance to the working of the land and avoid damage to the landowner's, property, animals or crops.
