From the Rectory

3.

The Diocese is offering us 40 prayers for the 40 days of Lent: subscribe, and a fresh prayer will arrive in your inbox each day. This particular theme has been inspired by our concentration this year on deeper prayerfulness: one of the strands of the Diocesan Vision.

While all prayers are prayer, not all prayer involves prayers! Prayer doesn't have to deploy words at all: it can simply be consciously being in God's presence. St. Paul writes about the Spirit praying within in us, especially when we don't know how to pray or what to say. Even if we do use words, we don't have to resort to the kind of formal language and approach we tend to assume when we think of "prayers". God doesn't require us to use a special language for him to understand us or give us a hearing; we are free to use our own words. Yet when Jesus' disciples asked him to teach them to pray, he taught then a formal prayer – the Lord's Prayer – so he must have thought there was something to gain from praying "prayers".

Although we may feel that a formal prayer better expresses what we might want to say, I don't think that's the main point. As I say, our faltering speech is intelligible and acceptable to God; although the elegance and beauty of some prayers is something to delight in – just as we might find joy in a hymn, or a worship space, or liturgical ceremonial – offering the best to God. Rather, prayers help shape our praying. It's quite likely that a prayer won't express exactly what we want to say, but will stretch us, take us beyond that. We can see that in the Lord's Prayer, which is sometimes thought of as giving us a pattern for prayer. If we are anxious to get on with bringing our wants before God, the Lord's Prayer reminds us that prayer begins with our desire for God and what God wants: hallowed be your (thy) name; your kingdom come. If we come with something on our conscience and want God to repair our relationship with him, it directs us to also pay attention to our relationships with others: forgive us our sins (trespasses) as we forgive those who sin against us. As one beautiful prayer asks, prayers have the ability to impart to us thoughts better than our own thoughts [Milner-White & Briggs: Daily Prayer].

There is also something to be found in prayers about the way we approach God. Our Father is both familiar and respectful. We might talk to God/Jesus as "our best mate"; but it might not always be appropriate to address the creator of the universe / judge of the world in that way! In the courts, formal language is used in recognition of the authority of the system: so with addressing Almighty God. Although that title is arguably overused in our tradition: alternative attributes, or appeal to a particular person of the Trinity can help mould our disposition in prayer. The above-quoted prayer is addressed, O Holy Spirit, giver of light and life...

Prayers from the Christian tradition also remind us that we never pray alone: we are joined in prayer not only with whoever composed the prayer (if we know) but with all those who have prayed it, or are praying it, or will pray it: in circumstances possibly rather like ours, maybe very different, but praying to the one God, through Jesus Christ our Lord.

So I encourage you to subscribe (dofn.org/40Prayers-signup); and pray that together we may wonder at God's inestimable love, that he may lighten our darkness, meet us in his Son, and order us in all our doings.

In the love of God,

Martin Greenland

Reedham Ringers

7.

You may have heard the bells at St John the Baptist, Reedham ringing regularly on a Sunday morning and the Reedham band continue to enjoy this fascinating, sociable and fulfilling activity.

We practise every Monday afternoon at 4pm, and if anyone is interested in what we do, please get in touch and we can arrange for you to come and visit the tower. Anyone can learn to ring and we have a great teaching facility and qualified teachers in Norwich who can help. There are some leaflets on the table in the church which provide more information.

We do offer sponsored rings. If you would like the bells rung to mark a special occasion, perhaps an anniversary, the birth of a child, an engagement, a special birthday, then for a donation to church funds we will try to oblige. Just ask.

Michael Brook Memorial Concert

A memorial concert is being held at Reedham Church on Saturday 2nd April at 6pm to remember the life of Michael Brook. All are welcome and, as we hope to offer refreshments, it would be helpful if you could let Ann Brook (01493 700259) know if you hope to attend. Michael died two years ago on 2nd April, which was also his Wedding Anniversary.

The music will include Parry's 'I was glad' and Fauré's 'Requiem', sung by the Acle & Bure to Yare Choir, and instrumental solos. More details in the April edition.

Royal British Legion, Acle & District Branch At the February 4th meeting of the Acle Branch of the Royal British Legion its president Peter Kingsley presented a certificate of thanks to Michael Gould who has been playing the cornet at various local Remembrance Day services in the region for the past 70 years. Michael is a former Market Gardener who hails from a very musical family which possessed a variety of instruments; and Michael specialised in cornet playing.

On Wednesday 9th February at the Acle Army Cadets Hall the president of the Acle branch presented to Lieutenant Shane Abel, officer in charge, a certificate in gratitude for the sum of £1,142 collected by the cadets during the Poppy Day appeal.

The next meeting of Acle Branch of the RBL will be held as usual in the Bure room of the Acle Recreation Centre.

Any interested members of the public are invited.

World Day of Prayer

Silver Jubilee Pictures

John Hipperson is doing a marvellous job of restoring and digitalizing the photos Les Fisher took (on slides) of Reedham's Silver Jubilee celebrations. I have also dug out and scanned prints of the pictures I took. We are hoping to put these together and have a screening; possibly at the church as part of the Jubilee celebrations. Do any of the rest of you have pictures we could use? It is great fun spotting faces from 45 years ago. Oddly enough, we all looked much younger then.

The Accession of Queen Elizabeth II, at St Edmund's Church, Acle 14.

How lovely it was, on Sunday February 6th, to have our Ancient Parish Church so beautifully decorated with flowers and flags to commemorate the day a young princess suddenly, perhaps unexpectedly, became a Queen; a Queen who has worked tirelessly to fulfil what she has prayerfully discerned to be her duty, both to her Church and to her country, as well as to the wider world.

How lovely too, to see so many happy, smiling faces, old friends and new, coming together over Biscuits and Bunting, in true C of E style! It was a joyous occasion. So let us all now nurture that expression of Love and Goodwill, so that the Church may once again become the Cornerstone of our community, as we proclaim Christ to be our Cornerstone.

As we prayerfully attempt to discern, like the young Queen, what may be our duty, each one of us would surely benefit by taking to heart the words of the late Archbishop Desmond Tutu- 'every day is a new opportunity to begin again'.

Let us embrace every opportunity, however small.

Let everyday be our Accession.

Sincerely,
Jillian Buckingham

Blaze highlights value of our churches

The dramatic scenes of the recent terrible fire which ravaged St Mary's Church, Beachamwell serve to highlight the value of our beloved village churches.

They are landmarks in neighbourhoods, providing them with an identity of their own, both visually and spiritually. This was reflected in the many who attended an impromptu outdoor service held in Beachamwell recently when the community attempted to come to terms with the sudden destruction.

Their roof lead theft had left serious damage which parishioners had worked tirelessly replacing, only to have their efforts thwarted by the cruel fate of a fire.

Our Norfolk landscape would be poorer without such churches and local efforts to sustain them deserve encouragement and support.

These extracts written in a letter to the Eastern Daily Press newspaper sadly reminded me of that similar fateful day when fire ravaged St John the Baptist Church at Reedham. Many will remember when villagers watched in horror as the thatched roof blazed and the subsequent tireless efforts of our dedicated team of members in restoration to its present glory.

Brenda Pawsey

Yes, I think it brought a lot of memories back for all of us. The question is, would they actually be wise to rebuild, says the Church Warden with a leaking roof, a large church building to maintain and a very small congregation. I am sure village sentiment would be all behind it - but will they still be prepared to support the costs in, say, 40 years' time?

CANTLEY FLOWER SHOW 2022 (Not just flowers)

Saturday 3rd September 2022 at 2pm in Cantley Village Hall. Please put this date in your diary. Have you started chitting your seed potatoes yet for this year's crop? Have you finished preparing your vegetable plot as planting will start soon? Now is a good time of year to complete those handicraft items that you started during lockdown.

We look forward to seeing you in September. All enquiries to Robert (Chair of Cantley Flower Show Committee) 01493701231 or go to Cantley.org/flowershow.

Cantley & District W.I.

In January, apart from our usual meeting, several of our members went to the marvellous production by the Norfolk and Norwich Operatic Society of The Sound of Music at the Theatre Royal. We also had a Lunch Club outing at The Reedham Ferry and an 'avoiding muddy boots' walk around Brundall.

Our next meeting will be held at 7.30pm on the 16th March in Cantley Village Hall. We will not be having a speaker but instead it will be a DIY evening meaning that we will entertain ourselves with maybe a Quiz or something similar.
