Bound together with the Prayers of Love and Faith commended within the Church of England for use with committed same-sex couples are Prayers for a Covenanted Friendship. The blessings of love and loyalty are to be found in partnerships other than (heterosexual) marriage; and beyond familial and sexual relationships. There is a reference in the words for a friendship to the commitment Ruth made to her mother-in-law, Naomi: where you go, I shall go. That was a familial relationship; and, despite its reputation, one which can be a source of blessing! But perhaps the strongest biblical example of a committed friendship is that between David and Jonathan.

Jonathan was the son of Saul, first King of Israel; Saul had taken David into his service (after he killed Goliath, according to one of the biblical strands). That meant Saul was David's boss. Workplace relationships aren't always good: that was certainly the case here! Having got the sense that God no longer wanted him to be king, Saul became intensely jealous of David and his popularity as a successful military commander; to the extent that he wanted to do away with him.

Just as we don't necessarily get to select who we work for or with, we don't get to choose our family. Jonathan didn't always agree with his father; nor did he always act as his father wished: Saul particularly resented his son's friendship with David. It can't always be easy being the heir to a monarch (ask the present King!), especially if you can see that they're not doing a very good job; but it's not the sort of thing you can talk about, except with your closest friends. Correspondingly, Jonathan was there for David when he was having a hard time at work. He let David know how things were with his father and in the end facilitated David's escape.

The whole story emphasises loyalty. Jonathan remained at his father's side, despite his greater loyalty to David. David remained loyal to Saul, despite the way he was treated, knowing that God's time was not yet. But the greatest loyalty was that which derived from the love between Jonathan and David. This persisted even though Jonathan realised that David, not he, was going to succeed to the throne. When Saul and Jonathan died together in battle, David was heartbroken; but he had the chance to express his continuing loyalty to Jonathan by showing favour to members of Saul's family.

Echoing the prayer for a covenanted friendship (see www.churchofengland.org/sites/default/files/2023-12/prayers-of-love-and-faith.pdf): a devoted friendship ... bound in [God's] love and promise ... seeking each other's welfare, bearing each other's burdens and sharing each other's joys.

In the loyal love of God,

Martin Greenland

Parish Notes

We will be marking Remembrance Sunday (10th) with our usual full provision. There will be acts of Remembrance at the war memorials (only) at Reedham (10.55am) and Beighton (12.45pm). At Limpenhoe (10.45am), Freethorpe Methodist Church (10.50am) and Halvergate (10.50am) the Silence at the memorial will be followed by a service in the church. Acle's Service at Remembrance will be in St. Edmund's Church at 3.00pm. At Cantley there will be an act of Remembrance attended by the school in St. Margaret's Church at 10.45am on Monday 11th November.

Thank you to all who have contributed so far to St. Edmund's Church Gift Day. Early indications are that donations are well down this year, but there will be more still to come in. It's not too late to add yours by delivering it to The Rectory, or on-line via the link at www.abychurches.co.uk/whats-on/events/gift-day.php This year the church will be celebrating its Patronal Festival on Sunday 17th November (11am).

Further to last month's notice about the lack of wheelchair access to St. Edmund's Church, our architect's recommendation is to raise the floor level of the nave at the west end of the church, providing very welcome level access, and then sloping very gradually down to the present level at the screen. Even if this proposal is adopted, it won't be speedy or cheap. We are hoping to arrange temporary access for assisted manual wheelchairs only via the south porch (accessed via the gravel path from Norwich Road) using our existing ramp – the south porch is lower than the north by one step, so the ramp slope will be less than 1:6 (but more than 1:8). It would be very helpful if you could check/advise beforehand with the churchwarden (or Rector – see page 2).

Looking ahead, Advent begins on Sunday 1st December, marked by services at Tunstall (9.30am); Freethorpe and Acle (11.00am); and Reedham's Christingle (4.00pm). There will be Advent reflections at the ecumenical morning prayers at Acle Methodist Church at 9.30am on Tuesdays 3rd, 10th and 17th. This year our Benefice Choir will additionally be leading an Advent Carol Service on Friday 6th December in Reedham Church at 7.30pm. The Advent Carol Service at Norwich Cathedral is a very popular event: we look forward to exploring some of the themes and music of this special season and sharing them with you.

Saturday 21 September 2024: Evensong

We were delighted to be joined by the Benefice Choir and their Director, Michael Nicholas, for our Evensong service at St Andrew's church in September. We were treated to some wonderful and moving pieces by Orlando Gibbons, Richard Ayleward and John Stainer, with the congregation joining in with a hymn or two. Everyone stayed for a well-earned cuppa, a slice of cake and a chat afterwards! Our sincere thanks to Michael and all members of the choir for a most uplifting service, and to all who helped on the day.

Sunday 15 December 2024 at 4.30pm: "A Dickens of a Carol Service" at St Andrew's

Come and join us for carols by candlelight with a Dickensian theme, followed by plenty of festive fare and warming mulled wine! God bless us, every one – and wrap up warm!

Reedham Belles

The Reedham and District WI, now known as the Reedham Belles, was founded in 1974, making this our Golden Anniversary year. We celebrated with a 1970s birthday disco in September, expertly led by Steve Burns, aka Dr Vinyl of Radio Norfolk fame. The Reedham Belles choir, which formed in 2024 and comprises nearly half the total membership, sang a couple of Abba songs. We will also be holding a private birthday party, just for members, at Southwood Hall, in October.

The October meeting was more prosaic and less inclined towards pulling out the dressing up clothes – an interesting talk by Emma from Tacons Farm and Shop @ Rollesby, Farm to Fork. Our November meeting will be held at Reedham Village Hall on 5th November. It is a talk by George Cooper about the Sea Palling life boat and also our AGM. But, in addition to that, there are trips out, local walks, a visit to the greyhounds at Great Yarmouth, shared meals, a book group and of course choir practices to be enjoyed.

We welcome new members from women of all ages, so please get in touch if something grabs your interest. We are certainly not all Jam and Jerusalem.

Reedham Churchyard

As you will see from the Minutes of the Parish Council meeting, the matter of the mowing is still not fully resolved. We rather hope that a complete mow will be possible by the end of November, paid for by the Parish Council. It looks as though next year the PCC (the local Church Council) will have to put together an application for funding from the Parish Council and arrange contracts ourselves. Do you know of any local firms or people would be interested in tendering for it? If so, do please ask them to get in touch, or send us their contact details. It is unlikely, we gather, that the grant will meet the full cost. This leaves us with a problem. With the costs of building repairs, utilities, our share of the costs of Ministry and all the other things we have to pay for, we are outspending our income. Would those who care very much about the state of the churchyard be interested in setting up a 'Friends of Reedham Churchyard Fund' to try to help cover the extra costs we are likely to have?

We are also hoping to arrange a final tidy up before winter but can't fix the date until we know when the final mowing is to take place. Mary Jones will email those who often help with this – but if you want to be included, please contact her (mpcjones@hotmail.co.uk) or me (kncowen@tiscali.co.uk).

A Problem with Pixies.

Our I.T. savvy son-in-law was trying to explain something about digital photography to our daughter and confusing her mightily; in the end she said, 'So it's all done by Pixies?', and that is how it has been ever since. The point of this is that sometimes I am sent photographs for the cover which are very low on 'Pixies' (Pixels). Most cameras on digital 'phones are marvellous, but sometimes they don't produce a very professional result if the 'file' is too small – the picture ends up 'Pixilated' or indistinct. The focus also matters. My apologies if I sometimes have to omit one of your submissions. And thank you for sending them. Also, posters sometimes have so much text they are difficult to read – do bear that in mind when designing them – sometimes 'less is more'.
