Meanderings around East Sussex and Kent

At the end of July, Irene and I spent a very relaxing week down in a little rural village called Beckley, five miles northwest of Rye in East Sussex. We stayed in a beautiful cottage, which was originally part of the stables for the (now non-working) farm where the owners lived – and no, it didn't smell of horses! At night no street lamps, and being blessed with good weather and clear skies, meant you could see millions of stars, such a marked contrast to where we live. One evening, as we arrived back from a day out and were in conversation with the owners, there was a thundering noise approaching fast. We turned to see five young deer running along, past the entrance. That's something you don't see in our part of Stalybridge!

We used this holiday as an opportunity to visit some of the numerous National Trust places in that area. The National Trust do a great job in preserving the heritage of this country and the places around Beckley are known for their association with many famous people – the actress Ellen Terry at Smallhythe Place; the poet, gardening writer and architect Vita Sackville-West at Sissinghurst, and more besides. All these places, of course, are in 1066 country, so named after William the Conqueror's invasion of England. Besides visiting these, we also went to Batemans, home of the author Rudyard Kipling who lived there from 1902 until his death in 1936. He was born in Mumbai, India on 30 December 1865. He was one of the late Victorian poets and a great story teller, writing books including The Man Who Would Be King; Mowgli's Brothers; Riki Tiki Tavi; The Jungle Book (well known to those who are in the uniformed organisations); Just So Stories; If; and Puck Of Pook's Hill from which I've taken an extract below:

A Smugglers' Song

Sung by a smuggler, advising people to look the other way when the contraband is run through the town.

*If you wake at midnight, and hear a horse's feet,
Don't go drawing back the blind, or looking in the street,
Them that asks no questions isn't told a lie.
Watch the wall, my darling, while the Gentlemen go by!*

*Five-and-twenty ponies,
Trotting through the dark—
Brandy for the Parson,
'Baccy for the Clerk;
Laces for a lady; letters for a spy,
And watch the wall, my darling, while the Gentlemen go by!*

I knew some of the words from my schooldays, but not all, and whilst, of course, I don't condone smuggling of any kind, the idea of Brandy for the Parson quite appealed to me!

The village of Beckley stands just a few miles from the border of Kent, the Garden of England, with oast houses and windmills standing proudly against the blue sky. Before the advent of supermarkets, most of our fruit and vegetables came from Britain, and especially from Kent. We're now in the month of September, and on Sunday the 27th of this month, at the 10.30am service, we celebrate our Harvest Thanksgiving. Not only do we have the traditional fruit and vegetables on display, but there will be tins of soups and other non perishable items for distribution. We would welcome any donations that you could make to the harvest, and afterwards, these will be going to those less fortunate than ourselves. Do please come along to the service, and give thanks to God for all that he has given us and continues to do so. This is also Back to Church Sunday, so I invite you to bring a friend who used to come to church, but now no longer does, for whatever reason. The service will then be followed with a Bring and Share Lunch, to which you are all invited. Please bring along some food to share if you can. Some people prefer to give a cash donation and that is fine – but the most important thing is that you join with us in our Harvest Thanksgiving.

In the evening of Saturday 26th September, at 8.00pm in the lounge, there will be another quiz, and again, you will be most welcome. On the following Saturday, 3rd October, Lynn and John Moon have organised another Walking Treasure Hunt, around Mossley. Last year's event was well attended and great fun, so if you would like to take part, please add your names to the list in the lounge. The cost is £2.50 per person, and we will finish up at the Fair Trade afternoon tea in church which runs from 2.00-4.00 pm.

175th Anniversary Celebrations

A Stroll around Mossley—Walking Treasure Hunt—
3rd October 2015

Continuing our 175th Anniversary Celebrations and following last year's successful 'Stroll around Stalybridge' Walking Treasure Hunt we are moving to pastures new—albeit not too far away.

The event will start at 12.30pm and completed answer sheets are to be handed in by 2.00pm. If you need transport to get to Mossley and back to St George's later, this can be arranged.

The Treasure Hunt will coincide with the Fair Trade Afternoon Tea Event which will be running that afternoon at St George's and it is here that all entries will be marked and the prize giving held.

The cost, as last year, will be £5.00 per team of , ideally, 2 people so we have as many teams as possible taking part—(so £2.50 per person). All monies raised will go to Church Funds.

We need your help

Alicia is kindly making items for the '175 Stall' at the Christmas Fair however she is running out of buttons!

If you have any buttons that you would like to donate they will be gratefully received. They can be of any size, shape or colour. It doesn't matter if you have 1 or 1000, every little helps!

September Prayer

Loving Father,
Please help us with all the new things September brings: a new school year, new stages of life, with children moving on or out, new challenges for many as summer gives way to autumn. Help us in this season of change to know the constant reality of Jesus. Thank you for the new life He freely offers to all who turn to Him.
In Jesus' name.
Amen.

Operation Christmas Child launches search for everyone who has ever packed a Shoebox

As part of this year's Operation Christmas Child campaign, the charity Samaritan's Purse is launching a nation-wide search for anyone who has ever packed a shoebox with them. It wants to hear from them.

Samaritan's Purse UK Executive Director Simon Barrington explains: "Where and when did they pack it? What they included, was there something particularly special they remember about their experience? We want to hear their stories of the impact it's had on them and why they got involved."

In the two decades since Operation Christmas Child began, 124 million children who have received shoebox gifts in Jesus' name. "It's a great way for all of us to make a difference in a child's life, to share God's love, to let them know they are not forgotten."

Samaritan's Purse plans to capture and share stories and photographs of everyone who's ever been involved, and to bring to life online and through social media, what Operation Christmas Child has meant to so many people.

There is also encouragement for everyone who has ever done a shoebox to get involved in this year's campaign: "Last year we were able to distribute more than 10 million shoebox gifts to children all over the world, some of whom live in the darkest of places. This year we want to reach a million more precious children with a simple shoebox gift. With your help and prayers, we will."

Tell us your story and help us to find everyone who has ever packed a shoebox! Go to www.samaritans-purse.org.uk/yourshoeboxstory

What goes into the box is fun, what comes out is eternal

Saint of the Month

17 September Hildegard, Abbess of Bingen,
Visionary, 1179

Hildegard was the tenth child to be born to a noble family in the Nahe valley, in the Rhineland. From early childhood Hildegard was the recipient of supernatural visions and experiences. At the age of eight she was put by her parents into the care of Jutta, a female recluse who lived close to a Benedictine Monastery at Diessenberg. Seven years after, at the age of 15, Hildegard took vows and became a nun in the monastic community that had gathered around Jutta. On Jutta's death in 1136, Hildegard herself became the abbess.

As well as a visionary and mystic, Hildegard was a remarkable woman who excelled in many areas. She was not a nun removed from the world and enveloped by mystery. She was versatile and energetic, producing varied works and affecting others wherever she went. Hildegard corresponded with many people, including royalty. She saw herself as standing in the prophetic tradition and was not afraid to castigate or reprimand. She wrote musical compositions including hymns, chants and songs. Her theological works include commentaries on creeds and Gospels, and on the Rule of St Benedict. Hildegard's medical handbooks and books about nature are remarkable for their content and conclusions. She also wrote a play.

Between 1141 and 1151 Hildegard began to receive visions and, with the approval of the Archbishop of Mainz, recorded some of them. The collection of her visions is called her Scivias and contained 26 visions. Hildegard writes on the nature of man, and the Last Judgement. Scivias includes a collection of dramatic songs.

The community grew too large for their premises and moved to Rupertsberg, near Bingen. From this base Hildegard travelled throughout Rhineland and founded a daughter house at Eibingen.

Hildegard was concerned that the writings about her visions be approved. Pope Eugenius gave her the necessary permission and, as her writings spread, so did her fame. The mystical quality of her writings, and the nature of her music have led to Hildegard being appropriated by many people, not all of whom recognise the theological and spiritual base to her life. Hildegard was, above all else, a woman devoted to God, whose visions and writings sprang out of a desire for him.

O how precious is the maidenhood of this virgin, she of the shut door whose womb the holy Godhead filled with His fire so that a flower bloomed in her and the son of God from that secret place went forth like the dawn.

Thus the sweet seed, who was that Son, through the shut door of her womb unlocked paradise.

And the Son of God from that secret place went forth like the dawn.

AN INVITATION

Why YOU are SO welcome to come Back to Church with us on 27th September...

The big message of the Christian faith is that whoever you are and whatever you've done, you are welcome at Jesus' table. No, more than this, God is actually looking for you. God thinks that his party is incomplete until you've arrived. That's why the shepherd in the story goes looking for the one lost sheep, and then rejoices when that sheep is found. God rejoices when we come to his table.

He doesn't mind whether you're ready or not. God just wants to welcome you in. You don't need to sign on the dotted line; you don't need to have a huge faith; you just need to accept the invitation.

Happily, many of you will be coming back to church this month for precisely that reason. You have been invited back to church and you have said yes. The church consists of people who have turned up, not just people who have signed up. Thank you for turning up on Sunday 27 September. You are very welcome!
