

Dying leaves and new growth

I remember once, standing absolutely transfixed, looking at the beautiful golds, oranges, reds and browns of the autumn colours. How long this sight lasts each year varies depending upon the autumn winds. All too soon, on looking up we see the starkness of bare branches and looking down see muddy, slippery, tattered dead leaves; becoming aware that winter is almost upon us again.

My feelings can be touched by a poetic description of a whole palette of warm colours and the evolving process of leaves dropping. My mind can be informed by the scientific explanation that the rich colouring of the leaves is created by the waste products that the tree needs to shed to prepare itself for winter; that these dead leaves can enrich the soil and nurture new life and new growth the following year.

On this occasion, my spirit was lifted. Not just by the colourful sight, but it was as if the scene was communicating with me. I made the connection that in dying, the leaves save the trees; in dying, the leaves nurture new life, new growth. My spirit acknowledged that the God, who formed the beauty of creation, is the God who sent his son, Jesus, to die like the leaves; offering new life. Like the leaf taking away the waste products of the tree, Jesus died to remove the poison and sin of the world and offers to take away our poison and sin, allowing us to live life in all its fullness. Like the leaf mould enriching the soil for future growth, Jesus can enrich my soil and encourage new growth in me.

Annually, in a world that appears increasingly confused, divided and hurt, I eagerly anticipate the beauty of the autumn colours. They are a reminder of the beauty of God's creation and his power to redeem that creation. They are also a reminder that I, too, need to try to find ways to help remove some of the pain and poison in the world and encourage new growth.

Remembering

Geoff Webber

Geoff was born and brought up in Lewisham. When he was 12 the family moved to Eden Park Avenue where they lived until the mid-1990s, when they came to Shortlands and entered life at St Mary's.

On leaving St Olave's School, Geoff became the first Webber to go to University: he went to Hull, where he studied South East Asian Politics.

His first job was as a Manager for Mecca Entertainments but later, more suited to his intellect, he joined a Government Quango known as Neddy – the National Economic Development Council. He later became a 'headhunter'.

Geoff was talented musically: along with two of his brothers, Geoff had been a chorister at Southwark Cathedral as a boy, and he also achieved Grade 8 on the French Horn.

Geoff showed unstinting love, respect and dedication in caring for his parents, Reg and Gladys, at great personal cost to himself. Tragically, he is the third of their five sons to die comparatively young.

Lest we forget

To commemorate the Armistice at the end of the Great War in 1918, we are placing a poppy 'tree' in the church porch. This will be decorated with card poppies, each inscribed with a name from our parish register of the fallen.

However, as families have, inevitably, moved on, it is unlikely that many relatives of the fallen still live in the parish. Therefore to make this memorial more relevant to our current parishioners, we will also be providing blank poppies for those who wish to commemorate their own family members who died in, or as a result of, the Great War. These can be inscribed with a name and placed on the tree.

The tree will be in the porch from the 31st October and will remain in place throughout November. Do please remember your family's sacrifice for us all.

Learning about other faiths

Dussehra 18/19 October - Hinduism

Hindus observe Dussehra through special prayer meetings and food offerings to the gods at home or in temples throughout India. They also hold outdoor fairs and large parades with effigies of Ravana (a mythical king of ancient Sri Lanka). The effigies are burnt on bonfires in the evening. Dussehra is the culmination of the Navaratri festival.

There are many local celebrations in some areas in India that can last for up to ten days. Local events include the blessing of household and work-related tools, such as books, computers, cooking pans and vehicles in the state of Karnataka.

Many Hindus believe that it is lucky to start a new venture, project or journey on Dussehra. They may also exchange gifts of leaves from the Shami tree as a symbol of the story of the Pandavas brothers' exile in the Mahabharata stories.

Dussehra celebrates the Hindu god Rama's victory over the demon king Ravana and the triumph of good over evil. The epic Ramayana tells the story of the Lord Rama who wins the lovely Sita for his wife, only to have her carried off by Ravana, the demon king of Lanka.

Ravana had a sister known as Shoorpanakha, who fell in love with the brothers Rama and Lakshmana and wanted to marry one of them. Lakshmana refused to marry her and Rama could not as he was already married to Sita.

Shoorpanakha threatened to kill Sita, so that she could marry Rama. This angered Lakshmana who cut off Shoorpanakha's nose and ears. Ravana then kidnapped Sita to avenge his sister's injuries. Rama and Lakshmana later fought a battle to rescue Sita, helped by the monkey god Hanuman and a huge army of monkeys.

The Mahabharata is another series of Hindu stories that play a role in the Dussehra festival. The Pandavas were five brothers who fought evil forces with a set of distinctive weapons. They went into exile for one year, hiding their weapons in a Shami tree: they found them at the same place when they returned from exile. They then worshipped the tree before going to a battle, which they won.

In memoriam

The memorial service, at 4pm on Sunday 4th November, is an opportunity to remember those we love but no longer see.

A book will be placed in the church porch for you to enter the names of those you would like to be especially remembered at this service. Candles will be lit during the service in memory of our departed loved ones.

FOND FAREWELL: Peter Stotesbury made a presentation to Jean Jackson on behalf of the parish when she moved away this summer.

Once every ten years...

Ever wanted to experience the Passion Play in Oberammergau? Thought it might be good to get to know other people locally through the experience of travel? This is your chance!

Happy big birthday!

Both of St Mary's Guide Units celebrated big birthdays this year: 2nd Shortlands (Friday) Guides was started back in 1948 so is now 70, and 3rd Shortlands (Tuesday) Guides was started in 1968, so is 50 this year. It was decided to roll these two landmarks into one big birthday, and celebrate our 120th joint birthday!

The Guides all worked during the summer term on a Big Birthday Challenge created by leaders Louise & Becca, for which they will gain a Big Birthday Badge. The culmination of celebrations was a Big Birthday Sleepover for 30 girls and 7 leaders at the Church Hall with popcorn and a film night. The following morning, they buried a time capsule in Church Gardens to be discovered by Guides some time in the future, maybe in another 120 years' time!

During the evening one of the Tuesday leaders, Colette, was presented with her Going Away With (Camp) Licence, and Rusty was presented with her 40 years' Service Award by Division President Lynne Silverthorne.

Mission of the month

Bromley, Lewisham and Greenwich MIND

Mind is a mental health charity in England and Wales. Founded in 1946 as the National Association for Mental Health, it celebrated its 70th anniversary in 2016.

Every year one in four of us will experience a mental health problem: hundreds of people are still struggling. MIND believes that no-one should have to face a mental health problem alone: it will listen, give advice and fight your corner.

MIND campaigns to improve services, raise awareness and promote understanding, providing help and support directly to those who need it most. The network of around 135 local MINDs offer specialised support and care based on the needs of the communities they support. Bromley, Lewisham & Greenwich Mind is one such local organisation.

In Bromley they provide: Recovery Works for individuals recovering from mental health problems; peer support for adults with experience of mental health problems; support for mothers experiencing mental health problems whilst raising dependent children; dementia support centres in Beckenham and Orpington and respite at home, the Bromley Dementia Support Hub and Mental Health Employment Support. Bromley Well provides support when excessive stress, worry or feeling low about everyday life, housing, money or health makes life harder.

Please look at the display at the back of the church for more information or visit www.blgmind.org.uk/bromley.

Now is an exciting time to join Girlguiding as an adult with a new programme being introduced across all sections (Rainbows, Brownies and Guides). All of the Units that meet at St Mary's Church Hall are thriving and in great demand, but they could all benefit from more adult helpers (male or female) in order to keep things running. This is especially vital for Tuesday evening Guides whose present Leaders will be leaving at Christmas.

If you would like to join a team or know of someone else who may wish to volunteer their time with us please do look at the www.girlguiding.org.uk to find out more and follow the links to the volunteering pages. You could also talk to any of the present unit leaders or call 07773 986337 for an informal chat.

Adults will be well supported in their chosen roles and there are many opportunities for an adventure of your own!
