LECTIONARY

Church-based worship has returned, and appears to be going OK! It's not ideal, but – given the restrictions imposed by the virus – it is the best we can offer ... so we hope that it is meeting a need.

Many of you, though, have chosen (for all the right and sensible reasons) not to return to the church building because of the 'risks' involved, so it is important for us to maintain features within the e-Church such as the Lectionary, allowing you to continue to read a programme of scripture that suits your personal needs, and is in keeping with the Church's season.

Please find below, September's offering (which does also include the end of August!).

This is the Year of Matthew, so the principal reading for the Gospel will usually reflect this throughout this 'Summer' season; there are a few exceptions to this pattern, which will be indicated below, especially when there is a Saints' Day or other Feasts.
