

Educational Programmes for Teachers

Working across the UK, the Holocaust Educational Trust educates about the Holocaust and its contemporary relevance. We partner with schools, colleges and universities to provide teacher training, classroom resources, the Lessons from Auschwitz Project for post-16 students and teachers, and the opportunity to hear the personal testimony of a survivor through our Outreach programme.

More than 2000 teachers take part in our programmes each year. We offer professional training workshops and Continuing Professional Development courses free of charge to new and experienced teachers across the UK. Our sessions are delivered by an experienced team of practitioners and focus on pedagogical issues and practical ideas for your classroom.

Throughout the academic year 2021-22 teachers are invited to join the following programmes: Online Training Sessions • Bespoke Training Workshops • Teacher Study Seminars • In-Person Programme

Bespoke Training Workshops

The Trust works with Initial Teacher Training providers, through universities, school-centred schemes and employment-based programmes, as well as providing Continuing Professional Development and in-service training to experienced school staff.

Our free 90-minute online workshops, and in-person full-day or half-day pedagogical workshops, are delivered to primary and secondary teachers and trainees across the UK and are adaptable to meet the needs of your school or institution.

Sessions can be targeted for a particular subject area or delivered to cross-curricular groups.

'Thank you for providing such a useful CPD course. The information this course provided will be invaluable to my teaching practice. Although the course focussed on the Holocaust, I feel the information provided has given me a better understanding of teaching other emotive or sensitive topics in History'.

Resources for Teachers

Our educational programmes are supported by a range of free guidance materials, lesson plans and resources for use in both primary and secondary classrooms. Teachers can access these resources at www.het.org.uk.

The Holocaust Educational Trust's A Guide for Primary School Teachers has been created to support the growing number of primary school teachers who wish to explore issues related to the Holocaust with their students. The guide and accompanying scheme of work are aimed at students in Year 6 in England and Wales, Year 7 in Northern Ireland and P6 and P7 in Scotland.

Exploring the Holocaust is our flagship resource which offers a free, comprehensive and flexible cross-curricular scheme of work for the teaching of the Holocaust at Key Stage 3 in England, Wales and Northern Ireland and at S2 in Scotland. It contains 15 downloadable lesson plans with accompanying resources for use in History, Religious Education or Philosophy, and Citizenship or PSHE, together with guidance documents for English, Art and Drama.

'This was the most valuable CPD I have ever done. I went back to school with so much knowledge both in terms of my own understanding of the Holocaust and teaching approaches'.
