A GENEROUS GOD CALLING FOR A GENEROUS CHURCH

OVERVIEW OF DIOCESAN FINANCES 2022

A WORD FROM BISHOP ROSE

Within our Eucharistic service we sometimes use the words based on 1st Chronicles 29:11

"Yours Lord is the greatness, the power, the glory, the splendour, and the majesty; for everything in heaven and on earth is yours. All things come from you, and of your own do we give you."

The important point is that all that we have comes from God. It is not for us to possess, but freely as God has given to us, so we too give. We have a generous God, and we pattern that generosity in our giving of ourselves, who we are and what we give back to God so that the mission that God has called us to may be accomplished. In scripture we see how God repeatedly uses whatever we give from a generous heart, multiplying it for the benefit of the whole body.

It is my view that if we truly believe in God's mission and our place in its fulfilment, then we will support that mission with a depth of generosity that reflects our spiritual depth. What we are presently experiencing therefore is a spiritual crisis more than it is a financial crisis. Together, let us live out that generosity in every area of our lives, so that we can indeed, by the grace of God, become a flourishing church.

FINANCIAL REVIEW OF 2022

As we emerge from the challenges presented by the pandemic, our parishes continue to be generous and sacrificial in their giving. Although some found themselves unable to pay their full parish share in 2022, due to a strong performance from our other income streams, our overall unrestricted income came close to our budget.

Thanks to an unrestricted Church Commissioners grant of £375k, we were able to end the year with a modest surplus of £58k, despite our property expenditure exceeding budget. Additionally, property sales enabled us to repay the covid loan taken out in 2021.

The decrease in our congregations needs to be addressed if we are to be a sustainable and flourishing church and our diocesan strategy is focussed on achieving this. Our commitment towards this strategy in 2022 resulted in committed funding from the Church Commissioners of over £1 million in 2023.

We expect a small shortfall in parish share for this year but our overall financial position remains stable and solvent. We remain committed to finding sustainable solutions to our resourcing needs, and to communicating transparently and openly with our parishes.

With heartfelt thanks for your generosity, understanding and commitment to our church and mission.

FINANCE 2022

OUR INCOME & EXPENDITURE

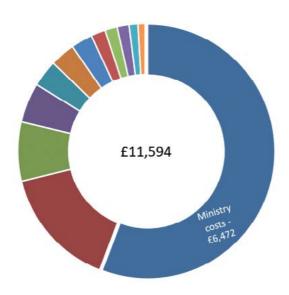

Parish Share is our main source of diocesan income. Additional income comes from property rentals and sales (which can vary significantly from year to year) as well as investments and parochial fees. Other income - such as capital grants for schools and grant funding from the Church Commissioners - can only be used for particular purposes (such as our work with Ignite communities and our strategy).

The majority of our total expenditure is on ministry costs - which includes everything from clergy housing, stipends and pensions to training and development for both lay and ordained ministers. Other significant areas of expenditure include the office and administration costs that arise from supporting our parishes and the grants that we give to parishes and deaneries.

LOOKING TO THE FUTURE: 2023 AND BEYOND

The kingdom-building work of Canterbury Diocese - our commitment to social justice, our mission, ministry, evangelism and education - is only made possible thanks to the enormous generosity and commitment of our parishes. We do not take this lightly and continue to work hard to address our issues of financial sustainability. Alongside the careful work of budgeting, forecasting and identifying cost savings, we are also working to increase the support we offer to parishes in their fundraising, stewardship and finances. The finance team now includes a generous giving advisor and we are looking to expand our expertise in this area so that we can assist parishes with fundraising for projects in addition to growing resources to fund day-to-day mission.
