From musician to Priest in Charge at Ipswich church

The Revd Emma Haggar has been appointed the new Priest in charge at All Hallows’ Church, Ipswich after acting as Assistant Curate at Old Felixstowe Parish since 2021. A licensing ceremony was held at All Hallows on October 30. Emma said: “I'm very proud to become part of the All Hallows community to share the love of God with the parish I was born in. I look forward to getting to know the church, understanding its needs and supporting the community.”

Emma's career as a pianist spanned 17 years and saw her perform in choirs, musical theatre and shows including a jazz event at Snape Maltings. In 2016, she volunteered on the Isle of Iona, described as the birthplace of Christianity in Scotland. It was there she felt God calling to her. To read more, please visit our website here.

Chris and Anji Dawkins - Kagera Link Co-ordinators - return from Kagera

"During a busy final week we visited the Kagera Christian Theological College (KCTC) tree plantation, eight acres of uncultivated land, where they plan to plant 10,000 trees to provide a long-term income stream. We also visited the new Cathedral in Biharamulo and we were blown away by the mural behind the altar and the lovely coloured glass windows all round. We were shown a wonderful collaborative project between the Diocese and Compassion International with the aim of supporting children and families in particular hardship by bring them together to learn key skills including weaving threads from old plastic sacks to make colourful doormats – we bought one to take home!

Last Friday was Anji’s last day of English teaching and there were fond farewells to Joel, Emmanuel and Braison who have all made real progress. We returned to the UK – our cases bulging with gifts from these wonderful people and our hearts full of new memories. As ever, it’s been a blessing and a privilege to share just a little of life here. Now we’re home, how about inviting us to your church or group so we can share pictures and stories with you. We’d love to come and tell you first hand’. Please email kageralink@gmail.com to arrange a visit to your church.
