From the Bishop....

In a magazine recently I read about a distance learning course being offered by St. John's College in Nottingham specifically for Church Administrators. It combines study alongside working, takes about 18 months, and leads to a Certificate in Christian Studies. Those who have completed the course speak of how not only has it transformed their way of working, but how it changed the way others within the church perceived them and the work that they do. I found that really encouraging.

All churches are dependent on the skills, gifts and talents of church members offering their time and expertise to help build up the Church. Valuing, appreciating and developing those God-given gifts is so important. When Paul wrote to the Church at Corinth he said; 'Now to each one has been given the Spirit's gifts for the good of all.' (1 Corinthians Chapter 12) He then goes on to give examples of those gifts. He mentions prophecy and healing, preaching and teaching, leadership and tongues and many others. But tucked away in that list of gifts and ministries we read that God has appointed people with the ability 'to help others and those with gifts of administration'. Administrators are mentioned in the same list as apostles, miracle workers and prophets.

Although as anyone who has ever been involved in Church work knows administrators often are 'miracle workers' ensuring that all the necessary administrative tasks of the church are done efficiently and effectively. The word Paul uses for 'administrator' is the same word that is used for a pilot of a ship, whose task it is to steer the ship safely through the rocks and the shoals to the harbour. Administrators seldom stand in the limelight, they work in the background and shoulder the routine but essential work on which everything else depends.

We don't always know who counts the collection, produces the service sheets, takes the minutes, or staples the church magazine together. But God knows and without all those people the mission of the church would not go forward as it does. Hurrah for administrators.

Bishop of Bath and Wells

Parish Page – Comings and Goings

Arrival of Rev Julie Fleming

Rev Julie will be instituted and inducted as the Team Rector of Worle Parish on Saturday 9 September at 4pm by the Bishop of Taunton, Ruth Worsley.

Everyone is warmly welcome to join us and to stay on for refreshments following the service. Over the summer, Julie and husband Paul have been busily painting the Rectory on Church Road where members of the churches popped in to lend a hand or provide cake. We are so excited about Julie joining us and God's plans for the future of our parish.

Departure of Rev Anne Farmer

At the end of September, Rev Anne will be leaving the parish for a new appointment as Vicar of St Paul's Church, East Molesey, in London. Her last services in Worle will be on 24 September. In an announcement to the churches Anne wrote, "I know some may find the timing of my departure, so close to the arrival of our new Team Rector, rather confusing, but I have felt God nudging me to move on for quite some time. In September I will have been in Worle and Wick St Lawrence for eight years, it has been a fantastic time, ministering to great people and working with a fabulous team. Yet as clear as my call was to Worle in 2009 so is this call to London." Rev Anne has been in contact with Rev Julie consulting on future services and plans and there will also be an overlap in September allowing for a smooth transition.

New Archdeacon of Bath

It was announced on Monday 24 July by the Bishop of Bath and Wells that the Revd Dr Adrian Youings is to be the next Archdeacon of Bath. Adrian will be known to many as the Rector of Trull and Angersleigh in Taunton. We are asked to hold Adrian and his wife Fran and their family in our prayers in the coming months of transition from that role to the significant responsibilities of an Archdeacon. In the meantime, much gratitude is expressed to the Revd Chris Hare, who is Acting Archdeacon of Bath until Adrian's licensing in the autumn.

Parish Office

Owing to knee surgery, our Parish Administrator Liz Winter will be out of action for eight weeks from mid August. During this time there will be some variation in parish office opening times as volunteers and clergy take on extra duties. We are sorry for any inconvenience this will cause and ask for your patience and understanding. Please pray for Liz for a successful operation.

Parish Prayer

Please join us to pray for our churches and the parish.....

Monday 14 August St Martin's, 7.30 – 8.30pm

St Lawrence Church, Wick St Lawrence

Build your life on firm foundations.

At our All Age Service in July we learnt about the importance of growing our faith on firm foundations through the story of the wise and foolish builder in Matthew's gospel 7:24-27. This was demonstrated outside on a grassy patch of the graveyard.

Some of the children built a sandy hill and then placed a wooden bird house on the top. Using a full watering can for rain and children's puff (unusually there was no real wind, a rare occurrence in Wick St Lawrence) we demonstrated that after a bit of wind and rain the house on the sand fell down! Then we took a firm piece of slate rock and placed the wooden house on that. No amount of puff and watering-can rain would dislodge that house which stood on its firm foundations. This is how Jesus reminds us that if we build our lives on his firm foundations: love, prayer, forgiveness, studying his word and meeting regularly to worship him together, we will be in a far better state to manage the tough times when they come and stand firm in his love. A challenge for us all.

Summer Events in Wick St Lawrence

Saturday 12 August 10am – 12.30pm, Coffee Morning at Ebdon Bow, Wick St. Lawrence, to raise money for our 'Angel Festival' in December. Come and find out more about this special event. There will be a 'Bring and Buy' stall and small raffle.

Wednesday 23 August 7pm – 'Sing Out Loud' Concert at St. Lawrence Church 'SUMMER SONGS & SING-SONGS.' Come and join us for an entertaining evening. Entrance is free; a retiring collection will be taken in aid of St. Lawrence Church Angel Festival.

Then and Now: : Church Road down the Years

The road we now know as Church Road has been variously named Bristol Road, Upper Bristol Road and Church Lane before Church Road came into being. In the early days of the village of Worle this lane was the only way to reach the fishing village at Weston [super-Mare]. People travelling from Bristol, for business or pleasure used this route to travel by horse drawn vehicles to the growing seaside resort and the inhabitants of Weston came along this narrow lane to collect goods from Spinner's Stores – later Gunning's Stores - at the top of The Scores. [top left] It was only when the lower levels were drained that the Weston to Worle Turnpike Road could be built, in 1841, to join the east end of Locking Road to what is now Worle High Street.

Until the 1960s, Church Road remained a narrow lane, where only one vehicle could travel at a time. Despite new bungalows and houses being built in the 1930s, the road kept its stone walls, hedges and wild verges. [top centre] The beginning of new building on the south side of the road sparked a new phase in the life of this ancient thoroughfare. Walls and hedges were cleared and the road became twice its former width. Many front gardens were halved in size by compulsory purchase of land.

In 1966, the road near St Martin's Church and the school became the focus of attention. The pasture land on the north side of the road had been sold for development, and a major effort to 'modernise' the flow of traffic ensued. In the picture, top right, we can still see the banks at the bottom of Hawthorn Hill in the process of being removed. Oddly, 50 years on, this faster, wider road has had its day and new 'traffic calming' measures have narrowed it back to its former proportions. I wonder how many people are thinking, 'I told you so'?

Bible Bite

A short story from the Bible

It can be read in the Bible in Matthew chapter 13:24-30, 36-43

Jesus told this story to help explain what his kingdom, the Kingdom of Heaven, is like...

A farmer's workers sowed
good wheat seed in his field.

At night an enemy came
and scattered weed seeds

When the seeds
sprouted they looked the same

When the plants grew bigger
the workers spotted the weeds

Wheat

Weeds (Darnel)

They asked the farmer

How did this happen?

An enemy did this

We'll pull up the weeds!

No, you might pull up
some wheat with them.
Wait until harvest time

You will be able to sort them out, and put the wheat in the barn ... and burn the weeds

People asked

What does
this story mean?

The field is the world
and the good seeds are
the good people

The weed seeds
are the evil people. At the end of time they will be separated.

The angels will bring
the good people to me
in heaven.

Katy Farmer writes about her volunteering experience in Nepal

I have recently returned from international citizen service (ICS) working with a charity called 'Restless Development.' Thank you so much to everyone who has supported me on my journey to Nepal, through prayer, encouragement and financial donations and then coming to my recent presentation at St Martin's church about my trip. It really was a fantastic three months spent as a volunteer. I became very close to the Nepal family with whom I lived, particularly their three daughters aged 10, 13 and 18. Living was an experience vastly different from the UK, we sat on the floor to eat, used our hands as cutlery and washed in the nearby river, whilst monkeys climbed in the trees around us!

The family home had been severely damaged in the 2015 earthquake and the family lived in a small bamboo construction with an earth floor whilst a new house was being rebuilt by the father. Shortly before I left Nepal, one of the bedrooms in the new house had been completed, and Sinita, the 10 year old daughter, squealed with delight when she was shown her room.

Our work was to deliver 'life skills', working with Nepali volunteers. Education in Nepal is very basic and Restless Development wanted us to encourage and engage the young people in various sessions and extracurricular activities. We set up a drama club, held a careers event, a community clear up day and an inter community football competition, whilst in turn the children started to organise their own events for the school, a dance competition, debate competition and street drama. It was so encouraging to see how engaged the young people became. Many might have educational aspirations but they can rarely be met, but Restless Development wanted to offer them opportunities. We taught basic business skills workshops teaching them how best to manage finances as they would be given small budgets from Restless Development, once we had left, in order to continue events for the school children.

Nepal is the 19th poorest country in the world and the community in which I lived had so little. The children didn't have any toys, but they were very inventive about play and one little boy spent a lot of time playing with a blow up globe which I had brought with me. Despite this they were an incredibly happy, content and optimistic people who made the most of what they had and lived for the moment. This was such a brilliant attitude which I am trying to take to heart back in Britain.

Three Peaks Challenge – Completed!

Well, we did it - in 29 hours and 15 minutes! We started

Ben Nevis at 6.40pm on Friday and came down at around 12am, then started Scafell around 8am and finally started Snowdon at 7pm on Saturday, coming down at midnight. It was pretty hairy at times - coming down in the dark and wet at minus 2 or 3 degrees - but brilliant though.

Thank you very much for all your support. It was very enjoyable (except the pain and fatigue!) and exciting. We drove a total of 1186 miles shared between four of us. On the team were:

Gareth Back
Ben Matthews
Jack Davis
Steve Dews
Chris Elms

From a personal point of view, it was a real privilege and honour to take on the challenge with such great people. We worked well as a team and looked out for each other all the way.

We are all tired and aching but it was worth it, as you can see from our faces in the photo from the Weston Mercury!

The final total hasn't yet been calculated but it is in the region of £2,200 which, when we subtract the costs of the challenge (around £440), should leave us with around £1,800 to be split equally between the St Mark's School and the church!

The school children at St Mark's Primary School got involved too! Each child took part in their own Three Peaks Challenge by completed as many circuits of an obstacle course as they could in 24 minutes – raising money from sponsorship in the process.

Again - thank you so much to everyone who has been involved and supported us. The school plan to install a climbing wall in the Keystage 2 playground, and the church needs a new roof to keep all the various users of the building dry when it rains!

With best wishes, Chris Elms

St Martin's Church

Last month we wrote about the research undertaken by Worle History Society on the 43 memorials tablets and windows in St Martin's school, and described the background to the Battiscombe window. This month we concentrate on Frances Selina Baker Witchell who is remembered in the window of 'The Last Supper' on the wall behind the pulpit erected by the Hewlett family of Worle. Frances was born in Gloucestershire in 1806, married in Stroud and lived in Bristol where five children were born and where sadly her husband died. Following this the 1851 census records Frances running a lodging house in Weston Super Mare with her daughters. By 1861 she was living with daughter Anna who was married to George Hewlett of Preanes Green. In 1869 Frances married again to William Witchell who had possibly been a guest at some time in the boarding house. Frances outlived her husband but died herself in 1897 leaving £3,600 to her daughters a good sum of money for those days.

Phil Collins, Vicar of St Martin's. At the back of the church is the Vicar's board, listing incumbents dating back to the 1200s. Between 1543 and 1582 Phil Collins is recorded as the Vicar of Worle during the time when icons, statues of saints and wall paintings had to be removed, including in St Martin's, following the first Act of Uniformity. In the same year the first Book of Common Prayer was introduced which altered the church services from Latin to English. With all these changes Rev Collins still had the stamina to remain in office for 40 years! We look forward to adding the first woman Rector of Worle to this list.

Toddler Graduation

On 11 July we said goodbye to five of our children leaving the group, one to pre-school and four off to school. Jasmine, Katy, Amelia and Lilly have all been coming to Toddlers since they were small babies. Wearing little white graduation gowns and cardboard mortar boards, made by Grace Rubery many years ago, they received their 'leaving certificate,' enjoyed soft play with the younger children and a celebration party 'brunch.' Thank you for all the help and support we get in the group and church organising refreshments, reading stories, leading singing and tidying up the toys. Baby and Toddler Group resumes on Tuesday 12 September.

Mead Vale Church

On Sunday 9th July, we had a Church Family Breakfast. Penny, Steve and Jenny, cooked a delicious selection of food for us all to enjoy and a good time of fun and fellowship was had by all. Yvonne then spoke to us about “obsessions” during our family service afterwards which was very thought provoking! We look forward to our next breakfast for Harvest on 1st October.

On Sunday 23rd July COSMIC had a Café style session together, with breakfast and fellowship and discussion and followed with fun and games including a water fight which was great fun for all who took part. We thank God for our COSMIC leaders and helpers who work so hard for our children in COSMIC and they now have a well deserved break during August and our children join us for our Sunday worship times. COSMIC will start up again on Sunday 3rd September. During the holidays on Saturday 2nd September we are all looking forward to going for a trip to Noah’s Ark, to spend some quality time together.

We have no Coffee Morning in August but look forward to our next one on Saturday 9th September, 10am – 11.30am in the Church Centre. Please note there is no coffee morning on the 3rd Saturday this month, it is on the 2nd Saturday. Please join us for refreshments and fellowship.

At the end of the summer Stuart Pascoe, will be stepping down from operating the Sound System at Mead Vale which he has been doing faithfully at Mead Vale Church for approximately 9 years!! We are hugely grateful to Stuart for his commitment to this role and pleased to announce that Liz Winter has kindly offered to help Mike Record in this role from September.
