Not the Rector

Perhaps we approach this Easter with mixed feelings. It is hard to reconcile the horrific news and suffering we see everyday on our TV screens or in our newsfeeds with the Easter message of rejoicing. But we do have cause to rejoice at the Good News of Easter, which reminds us of the triumph of good over evil. We need to hold to that thought at times like this. At least this year we have been able to observe Lent and Easter in full after the last two years of lockdowns.

Our Easter celebrations begin on Saturday evening at 8pm in Cranham, when our Paschal candles will be blessed and lit from the new fire, ready to be received into our benefice churches on Sunday morning. We shall hear scripture readings of God's goodness and purposes for his people before renewing our baptismal vows together. Do come along and be part of this very moving start to the greatest feast of the Christian year.

After Easter as we move further into Spring, we are making some changes to our worship routines. These reflect the wishes of our parishes as we move forward. Our monthly benefice service will begin to move around the parishes. We shall begin on May 1st with a service in Cranham at 10am. Do be aware of those who may wish to share transport if you are going by car.

Also from May, services on Sundays in Painswick will all start at 10am, instead of the current varying start times. This will be less confusing for everyone and hopefully 10am will be easier for many of our congregation.

May I wish you all a very happy Easter.

Revd. Andrew

Collect

God of glory,
by the raising of your Son
you have broken the chains of death and hell:
fill your Church with faith and hope;
for a new day has dawned
and the way to life stands open in our Saviour Jesus Christ.

Psalm 118.14-24

The LORD is my strength and my might; he has become my salvation.

There are glad songs of victory in the tents of the righteous:

'The right hand of the LORD does valiantly;
the right hand of the LORD is exalted;
the right hand of the LORD does valiantly.'

I shall not die, but I shall live,
and recount the deeds of the LORD.
The LORD has punished me severely,
but he did not give me over to death.

Open to me the gates of righteousness,
that I may enter through them and give thanks to the LORD.

This is the gate of the LORD; the righteous shall enter through it.
I thank you that you have answered me and have become my salvation.
The stone that the builders rejected has become the chief cornerstone.

This is the LORD's doing; it is marvellous in our eyes.
This is the day that the LORD has made; let us rejoice and be glad in it.

The Gospel according to John 20.1-18

Early on the first day of the week, while it was still dark, Mary Magdalene came to the tomb and saw that the stone had been removed from the tomb. So she ran and went to Simon Peter and the other disciple, the one whom Jesus loved, and said to them, 'They have taken the Lord out of the tomb, and we do not know where they have laid him.' Then Peter and the other disciple set out and went towards the tomb. The two were running together, but the other disciple outran Peter and reached the tomb first. He bent down to look in and saw the linen wrappings lying there, but he did not go in. Then Simon Peter came, following him, and went into the tomb. He saw the linen wrappings lying there, and the cloth that had been on Jesus' head, not lying with the linen wrappings but rolled up in a place by itself. Then the other disciple, who reached the tomb first, also went in, and he saw and believed; for as yet they did not understand the scripture, that he must rise from the dead. Then the disciples returned to their homes.

But Mary stood weeping outside the tomb. As she wept, she bent over to look into the tomb; and she saw two angels in white, sitting where the body of Jesus had been lying, one at the head and the other at the feet. They said to her, 'Woman, why are you weeping?' She said to them, 'They have taken away my Lord, and I do not know where they have laid him.' When she had said this, she turned round and saw Jesus standing there, but she did not know that it was Jesus. Jesus said to her, 'Woman, why are you weeping? For whom are you looking?' Supposing him to be the gardener, she said to him, 'Sir, if you have carried him away, tell me where you have laid him, and I will take him away. Jesus said to her, 'Mary!' She turned and said to him in Hebrew, "Rabbouni!" (which means Teacher). Jesus said to her, 'Do not hold on to me, because I have not yet ascended to the Father. But go to my brothers and say to them, "I am ascending to my Father and your Father, to my God and your God." ' Mary Magdalene went and announced to the disciples, 'I have seen the Lord'; and she told them that he had said these things to her.

This is the Gospel of the Lord

What do you notice first about this famous passage from John's gospel? Perhaps it is the fear that you imagine is instilled in Mary Magdalene when she realizes that her Lord's body has been taken. Or maybe you are struck by the seemingly random detail that one disciple outruns the other. Mary stays at the tomb when the disciples return to their homes. The text does not explicitly tell us why she does so. We might infer from her weeping that she needs space to grieve the loss of Jesus a second time. Unlike Peter and John, she does not yet understand that he is risen, but she's about to! In the midst of her despair, Jesus comes. He comes to her right at her most vulnerable, when she least expects it, and most needs it.

- Jesus has a funny way of showing up just when we need him, especially when we do not expect him. Does the Risen One ever come to you in that way?
- Does Jesus ever surprise you by showing up just when you need him most? How do you know he is there?
