Called together

grow enrich resource

A shared vision and strategic framework for the Diocese of Rochester Those are the words I use when I confirm somebody. They are really important words for any of us that is a disciple of Christ; to know that we are called by God and that we belong to God. These words are actually derived from verses in Isaiah, and they are not addressed to an individual but to the whole of the people of God.

What is God calling us to do? What is God calling us to be? We know that the Church and indeed the world faces many challenges, but what we’ve heard when we’ve listened to the Church across Medway, Kent, and south-east London is a desire for us to be confident in our faith, to be ready to proclaim that faith and to live it out in our communities, and to steward the resources that God has given us in such ways as to serve that mission.

While being absolutely honest about the challenges and the likely costs, I do believe that God asks us to respond to his calling with confidence, trust and prayer. God calls us by name and makes us his own; God calls us together into a common endeavour of worship and of prayer, of proclamation and of service; God calls us to join with him in transforming the lives of individuals and communities; God calls us above all to show forth his character in acts and attitudes of grace and generosity.

In each place where we are in village, town, suburban or urban setting; in workplace, school, college, hospital or other place of human activity in all of these and other settings across south-east London, Medway and West Kent, we are called together to enhance and steward our resources for the work of God, to enrich with Christian value and character the places where we are, to grow in numbers and in spiritual vigour disciples who will be both faithful and fruitful.
God the Creator of all,
grow your church in faith;

God the Son who
saves the world,
enrich us with
your presence;

God the Spirit of wisdom
and understanding,
resource us for your
mission and ministry;

that we may be a blessing throughout and beyond this Diocese, for we are called together
to proclaim the good news of Jesus Christ our Lord.

Amen.
