

House for Duty Associate Minister, The Bridges Group

Two House for Duty Associate Ministers (Sunday + 2 days a week), one with a view to becoming Priest-in-Charge. One post will have a more pioneering role: to develop new, imaginative ways of being church in the community. The other post will be more traditional: to nurture and pastor those who love the traditions of the local church.

We are looking for two priests who will:

- be prayerful, believe in a Christ-centred church, are empowered by the Holy Spirit, have a pastoral heart and will help every member achieve their full potential as Christians
- work strategically, creatively and collaboratively with the team of clergy, reader and lay leaders
- be happy to lead both traditional and more innovative styles of worship
- inspire, nurture and empower others to grow as disciples and serve Christ in their communities
- build strong relationships and enjoy talking with people of all ages from both inside and outside the church
- recognise the potential of our church buildings for both mission and ministry
- feel deeply at home in a rural setting.

We can offer you:

- A skilful leadership team and worship leaders
- A supportive and resourceful deanery and chapter
- A modern, detached four-bedroom vicarage (with the best views in the diocese from Napton Vicarage study!)
- A group administrator
- Three very good local primary schools – and the outstanding Southam College nearby

Jesus tells us that “I came that you may have life, and have it abundantly.” [John 10:10]

Informal conversations welcome:

Associate Archdeacon Tim Cockell ,

07983 300675

(Tim.Cockell@Coventry.Anglican.org)

Closing Date: TBC

Interviews: TBC

Further details:

coventry.anglican.org/vacancies

Enhanced DBS disclosure is required for this post