WHAT I REALLY WANT FOR CHRISTMAS

As we enter the season of Advent, it is the period of preparation for the celebration of the birth of Jesus, and it spans four Sundays. Its name comes from the Latin word adventus, which means "coming". The season also celebrates Christ's anticipated coming again in the fullness of time to rule triumphantly over life in heaven and earth, as well as the coming of Christ as the infant Saviour whose birth we celebrate at Christmas. And because the season emphasizes Christ's comings and not just his birth, it’s more than just a time to get ready for Christmas. It is a penitential season but is no longer associated with the strictness of Lent. Nevertheless Advent reminds us that the question is not whether Jesus will return to judge the earth, but when.

For many people the run up to Christmas can become a hectic time, shopping for presents for loved ones, attending functions and parties, stocking up on food; the list goes on and on. But what is it that we really want and need for Christmas? One way of finding out is by paying attention to the lyrics of some well-known songs composed about this time:

“All I really want for Christmas is someone to tuck me in
A shoulder to cry on if I lose, shoulders to ride on if I win
There's so much I could ask for, but there's just one thing I need
All I really want for Christmas is a family.

All I want for Christmas is someone who'll be here
To sing me happy birthday for the next 100 years
And It's okay if they're not perfect or even if they're a little broken That's alright, 'Cause so am I”.

“So please, please, please
Let me, let me, let me
Let me get what I want this time”.

“I don't want a lot for Christmas
There is just one thing I need
I don't care about the presents
Underneath the Christmas tree
I just want you for my own
More than you could ever know
Make my wish come true oh
All I want for Christmas is you”*.  (All I want for Christmas is you; Mariah Carey 1994)

The list could go on, and the lyrics speak by themselves.

On another level, if we were to look at Christmas adverts, they seem to present a beautiful, heartfelt and magical Christmas, but ultimately many of them are biased and manipulative. Their aim is to trigger an emotional response, to fill a void that of course can only be achieved through buying that special present, the perfect present, because at the end of the day, we are worth it…! Consumerism at its best!

But what do I really want for Christmas? In order to find an answer you need to tune in to some of the things your heart desires the most: fulfilment, sense of worth, meaning and belonging. How you pursue this remains for you to find out. Perhaps popping in to church this Christmas might be a step in the right direction. It will not give you all the answers, but it will certainly help you to bring things into perspective, in the context of a supportive, welcoming and friendly community. It might ultimately bring you a sense of belonging, to connect or reconnect with yourself and with God, to recharge your spiritual batteries, to just be. This could also form the basis of a new year’s resolution, that might bring you far more benefits than other well wishing, but quickly broken decisions, and does not induce guilt.

What you really want for Christmas is to be the person that God has created you to be, not what the world is telling you are, or you need.

Have a blessed and peaceful Christmas and happy New Year.

Fr Joseph

REMEMBRANCE

Last year we made poppies from the bottoms of cola and lemonade bottles, spray painting them red before painting the black markings on the insides and then gluing pea sticks to the back of them. We put them outside the church on the Woodthorpe Road side and shared photos on social media, which generated lots of comments both locally and via the social media.

This year we planted them outside the church again, on Sunday 3rd November, but this time instead of just planting them randomly as a field, we have planted them in the shape of 1914-18 : 1939-45 to remember our fallen heroes. Photos will again be shared, but while we were planting a couple of passers-by commented on how lovely the display was last year, and how lovely it was to see them out again this year.

FEELING FLUSHED? - update

The collection on 17th November raised about £300 - this is enough to twin five of the eight toilets in the church hall and so provide five communities with a much-needed toilet.
DECORATING THE CHURCH
The church will be decorated for Christmas from 9.30am on Saturday 21 December. Helpers and greenery welcome!

CHRISTMAS CARD AT ST. HILDA'S
We will again have a single large card in church addressed to everyone in St. Hilda's, which anyone can sign. This should save some hassle for you, and a tiny bit of the Earth's resources. The money you save in individual cards can be donated to a charity supporting refugees. You are, of course, still free to give individual cards to your friends. The card will be in church during December.

GET READY FOR FEBRUARY!

The Bishop of Kensington, the Rt Revd Dr Graham Tomlin, has planned a series of Kensington Deanery Missions.

He is reserving one month for each Deanery, spread over two years and during that month is making himself available, as much as possible, to assist the parishes in that Deanery in their activities. Spelthorne is first, in February!

This is for a mission of reconciliation, based on 2 Cor. 5.17-20:

If anyone is in Christ, there is a new creation: everything old has passed away; see, everything has become new! All this is from God, who reconciled us to himself through Christ, and has given us the ministry of reconciliation; that is, in Christ God was reconciling the world to himself, not counting their trespasses against them, and entrusting the message of reconciliation to us. So we are ambassadors for Christ, since God is making his appeal through us; we entreat you on behalf of Christ, be reconciled to God.

This gives us two months to plan our actions, by individual parish, group of parishes, or Deanery-wide. There is no outside team - we are the team! Activities could be evangelistic, a social outreach initiative, acts of compassion etc.

Some events have already been pencilled in. For St. Hilda's these are at the end of the month:

- Sunday 23rd at 6pm - Confirmation
- Tuesday 25th (Shrove Tuesday) - a pancake party
- Wednesday 26th (Ash Wednesday) - Ashing at Ashford Station

Look out for further information, think how you can help, and pray!

A Prayer for the Spelthorne Deanery Mission - February 2020

Generous God,
source of all life and growth,
grant us your vision for our planning,
your wisdom for our actions,
and your power for our witness;
that through your Holy Spirit
your church may grow in number,
in faithful service to our communities,
and in love and commitment to our Lord and Saviour Jesus Christ.
Amen.

THE HISTORY OF CHRISTMAS

The Bible does not give a date for the birth of Jesus. In the third century it was suggested that Jesus was conceived at the Spring equinox, 25th March, popularising the belief that He was born nine months later on 25th December. John Chrysostom, the Archbishop of Constantinople, encouraged Christians worldwide to make Christmas a holy day in about 400.

In the early Middle Ages, Christians celebrated a series of midwinter holy days. Epiphany (which recalls the visit to the infant Jesus of the wise men bearing gifts) was the climax of 12 days of Christmas, beginning on 25th December. The Emperor Charlemagne chose 25th December for his coronation in 800, and the prominence of Christmas Day rose. In England, William the Conqueror also chose 25th December for his coronation in 1066, and the date became a fixture both for religious observance and feasting.

Cooking a boar was a common feature of mediaeval Christmas feasts, and singing carols accompanied it. Writers of the time lamented the fact that the true significance of Christmas was being lost because of partying. They condemn the rise of ‘misrule’ – drunken dancing and promiscuity. The day was a public holiday, and traditions of bringing evergreen foliage into the house and the exchange of gifts (usually on Epiphany) date from this time.

In the 17th century the rise of new Protestant denominations led to a rejection of many celebrations that were associated with Catholic Christianity. Christmas was one of them. After the execution of Charles I, England’s Puritan rulers made the celebration of Christmas illegal for 14 years. The restoration of Charles II ended the ban, but religious leaders continued to discourage excess, especially in Scotland. In Western Europe (but not worldwide) the day for exchanging gifts changed from Epiphany (6th January) to Christmas Day.

By the 1820s, there was a sense that the significance of Christmas was declining. Charles Dickens was one of several writers who sought to restore it. His novel A Christmas Carol was significant in reviving merriment during the festival. He emphasised charity and family reunions, alongside religious observance. Christmas trees, paper chains, cards and many well-known carols date from this time. So did the tradition of Boxing Day, on 26th December, when tradesmen who had given reliable service during the year would collect ‘boxes’ of money or gifts from their customers.

In Europe Santa Claus is the figure associated with the bringing of gifts. Santa Claus is a shortening of the name of Saint Nicholas, who was a Christian bishop in the fourth century in present-day Turkey. He was particularly noted for his care for children and for his generosity to the poor. By the Middle Ages his appearance, in red bishop’s robes and a mitre, was adored in the Netherlands and familiar across Europe.

Father Christmas dates from 17th century England, where he was a secular figure of good cheer (more associated with drunkeness than gifts). The transformation of Santa Claus into today’s Father Christmas started in New York in the 1880s, where his red robes and white beard became potent advertising symbols. In some countries (such as Latin America and Eastern Europe) the tradition attempts to combine the secular and religious elements by holding that Santa Claus makes children’s presents and then gives them to the baby Jesus to distribute.

'I'm often struck by the fact that the events of that first Christmas would have passed almost unnoticed by the man in the street. The angels appeared in the night to shepherds out in the hills; Jesus was born up a back alley behind a pub that most people probably didn't even know was there. Was the star even distinguishable from the planets that people were used to seeing? Who actually knew what was happening?

WHO KNEW?

Who saw the man and pregnant girl
Pressing through the crowded street
Struggling through the human swirl
On tired legs and aching feet?
Who knew?

Who heard her cries, in labour’s pain
Deep within a battered shed?
Who cared for their impoverished shame
Who thought about her grassy bed?
Who knew?

Who, listening to an infant’s cries
Hearing a birth, they thought it strange?
Expressed an int’rest, or surprise?
Who recognised that awesome change?
Who knew?

Who saw the shepherds rush along
Through sleeping streets at dead of night?
Who heard the angels’ glorious song?
Or saw the star that shone so bright?
Who knew?

Who, fighting through the Christmas throngs
Or, settling down to watch TV
Eats Christmas food, sings Christmas songs
Who can the coming Saviour see?
Who knows?

A LIFE FOR A LIFE

Capital punishment was abolished in Britain 50 years ago this month, in December 1969. It ended the macabre ritual of a judge donning a black cap, solemnly declaring that the accused was found guilty and would ‘be taken hence to a place of public execution…and there to be hanged by the neck until you be dead.’ On the day of execution, a crowd would gather outside the prison waiting to hear the eight o’clock bell confirming the execution was complete.

A movement against capital punishment had grown steadily during the 1950’s, fuelled by ‘public’ shock at the execution of a woman for a crime of passion. Her name was Ruth Ellis and she was found guilty of shooting her lover, David Blake.

Though Ruth’s story was tragic the incident that remains on my mind is that of Timothy Evans. Found guilty of murdering his wife and infant daughter he was hanged in March 1950. Subsequently it emerged beyond any doubt that the murder, and several others, was the work of John Reginald Christie. Christie lived with his wife in the ground floor flat of his property 10 Rillington Place, Camden.

Evans, who was mentally immature, had been persuaded to confess to a murder in which he was not, in any way, involved. It was a grave miscarriage of justice. Years later a friend gave me a book which told the whole appalling story. He had been one of the lawyers in the team that had tried to defend Evans. Today, Evans would have been released, pardoned and paid compensation. But we cannot bring someone back from the dead.

Detection and judicial judgement are not infallible, and people today would not want the abolition of capital punishment reversed. Though the question remains – what is a suitable punishment for murder?

EPIPHANY - 6th January

On 6th January we celebrate Epiphany - the visit of the Wise Men to the baby Jesus. But who were these Wise Men? No one knows for sure. Matthew calls them ‘Magi’, and that was the name of an ancient caste of a priestly kind from Persia. It wasn’t until the third century that they were called kings - by a church father, Tertullian.

Another church father, Origen, assumed there were three - to correspond with the gifts given. Later Christian interpretation came to understand gold as a symbol of wisdom and wealth, incense as a symbol of worship and sacrifice, and myrrh as a symbol of healing - and even embalming. Certainly, Jesus challenged and set aright the way in which the world handled all three of these things. Since the 8th century, the Magi have had the names Balthasar, Caspar and Melchior.

Registered Charity No. 270156
C of E WELCOMES FURTHER GOVERNMENT SUPPORT FOR CHURCHES

Listed Churches in need of vital repairs are to benefit after the Government announced the extension of a grant scheme.

The listed places of worship grants scheme (LPWGS) is to be extended by the Treasury for a further year until March 2021.

The scheme pays grants equal to the VAT incurred on repairs such as urgent structural work and new roofs, reducing the fundraising burden on churches and congregations.

Churches and cathedrals are responsible for fundraising for their own repairs. They contribute £220m a year to the economy and collectively run around 33,000 social action projects.

The Taylor Report which was published in 2017 concluded that church buildings play a "vital role" in providing public services and a focal point for communities across the country.

DON’T IGNORE RE!

The number of schools ignoring Religious Education (RE) laws has risen, according to recent research by the National Association of Teachers of RE (NATRE).

In a survey of more than 600 schools across England, it was found that half of academies without a religious character and 40 per cent of community schools do not meet their legal or contractual requirements to deliver RE at Key Stage 4. State schools must teach RE to all pupils, whether they are studying it at GCSE-level or not.

NATRE said that there were many schools who provide excellent RE, and that this made it “all the more unacceptable to hear of schools where pupils are not given the access to the religious literacy they need and deserve to support them in our increasingly pluralistic society.

“RE is a vital part of the curriculum, giving pupils the chance to learn about the people in the world around them, and providing them with the opportunity to discuss and debate important questions.”

NATRE is urging the Government to establish as National Plan for RE, as recommended last year by the Commission on Religious Education.
'TIS THE SEASON FOR ANGELS!

Angels make a big appearance in the story of Christmas, but over the next few weeks other kinds of angels will be making appearances throughout the country, on streets and inside nightclubs.

Teams of Street Angels and Club Angels will work hard this month to help to keep communities and people, especially within the night-time economy, safe.

At an hour when most of us are safe at home in bed, these volunteer angels will be out on patrol, offering people in need some flip-flops or a plaster, a bottle of water or time to chat. They will make a massive difference as a result.

Paul Blakey, founder of Street Angels, tells how earlier this year one of the Street Angels teams came across a young man holding his head and kneeling over, very dazed, having had his head bashed against a wall. “The team took him to a safe hub and left him. Three months later this same man came to say ‘thank you for saving my life’. It turns out the safe hub team had got him to A&E and a brain scan revealed a bleed on the brain.

“We are called to be angels! We can all be God's hands and feet, delivering good news of great joy through words and action. We can all take the time to look out for others. We can all ask God to make his Kingdom known through our daily living.

“So, this Christmas do pray for our teams out on the streets and in clubs. Or maybe you could even consider volunteering if there is a team near you!”

Meanwhile, if you are going on a night out yourself, have a SafeNightOut.party and remember these top tips:

- Stay with friends, don't go off alone, and have contact info somewhere other than your phone.
- Ladies - carry a pair of slip-on shoes for when high heels become unbearable.
- Always eat before a night out and don't start cooking once you get home.
- Know what you are drinking and how much you have - mix alcohol with soft drinks.
- Pick a venue right for you - if you feel out of place, leave!
- Keep your taxi money in another part of your handbag / wallet. Take a picture of the taxi and taxi drivers ID and message it to a friend.

C of E’S ENVIRONMENT GROUP CALLS FOR GREATER ACTION ON CLIMATE CHANGE

The Church of England’s Environmental Advisory Group has called for all parts of the Church to recognise the Climate Crisis and step up its action to safeguard God’s creation.

In guidance sent recently to bishops, dioceses and church leadership teams, the Environmental Working Group (EWG) points to the ambitious programme of action required, covering everything from the Church’s buildings to its investment assets.

The paper also highlights future mission challenges including a need for churches to be ready to provide sanctuary for those affected by extreme weather events in this country and beyond as the impact of climate change accelerating.

With work already underway to develop an Energy Footprint Tool and to offer local energy audits for churches, schools and houses, the EWG says the assessment of our carbon footprint must extend to all areas within the overall Church of England portfolio such as investment holdings in farming and forestry.

The EWG brings together experts who oversee the Church’s Environmental Programme. They plan to bring a motion to General Synod in 2020 proposing revised carbon targets for the Church with an ambition for net zero emissions by 2050.

The work of local Diocesan Environment Officers is also identified as key, and they can help resource parishes and local communities.

MILLENNIUM YEW TREES – 20 YEARS ON

20 years ago, as 1999 drew to a close, the Church of England marked the Millennium by distributing thousands of young yew trees across England. In all, about 7000 seedlings were given to parishes requesting them. It was explained that the yew tree could be seen as ‘a metaphor for the life of faith in this country over the last 4000 years’, as well as a symbol of the spiritual life, ‘with its dormant periods and its coming to life’.

David Shreeve, director of the Conservation Foundation, said that the yew trees were “planted in the spirit of a living link with the birth of Jesus, and as a symbol that, if we wanted this millennium yew to live for another 2000 years, we would need to care for and cherish our local environment.” Mr Shreeve believes that the project made an impact on the Church, helping to pave the way for a greater emphasis on caring for Creation, including the appointment of more diocesan environment officers.

Yews are the oldest living things in Britain. The Woodland Trust explains that a yew is not even considered ‘ancient’ until it is over 900 years old. The oldest tree in the UK, the Fortingall Yew, is estimated to be between 2000 and 3000 years old.
