

Science

Today we are learning about exploring light and dark by looking at shadows.

What is a shadow and how is it created?

Discuss different shadows by shining a light on various solid and transparent objects.

Can you create any funny or interesting shadow shapes?
Please share them by sending them in.