

It's impossible to tell if there is a grave at corner A1.

Graves marking the corners of Zone A are:

- A2 Harry Burgess d.1985 aged 69
- A16 James Wallace d. 19081 aged 52
- T1 ~~Robert John Harper d. 1977~~ Frederick G. White d. 1974 aged 74
- T18 George W. Douras d. 1979 aged 59

The Zone can be divided between two volunteers as follows:

Rows A - J and Rows K - T      The grave at J17 is: Elsie Bank d.1965 aged 61

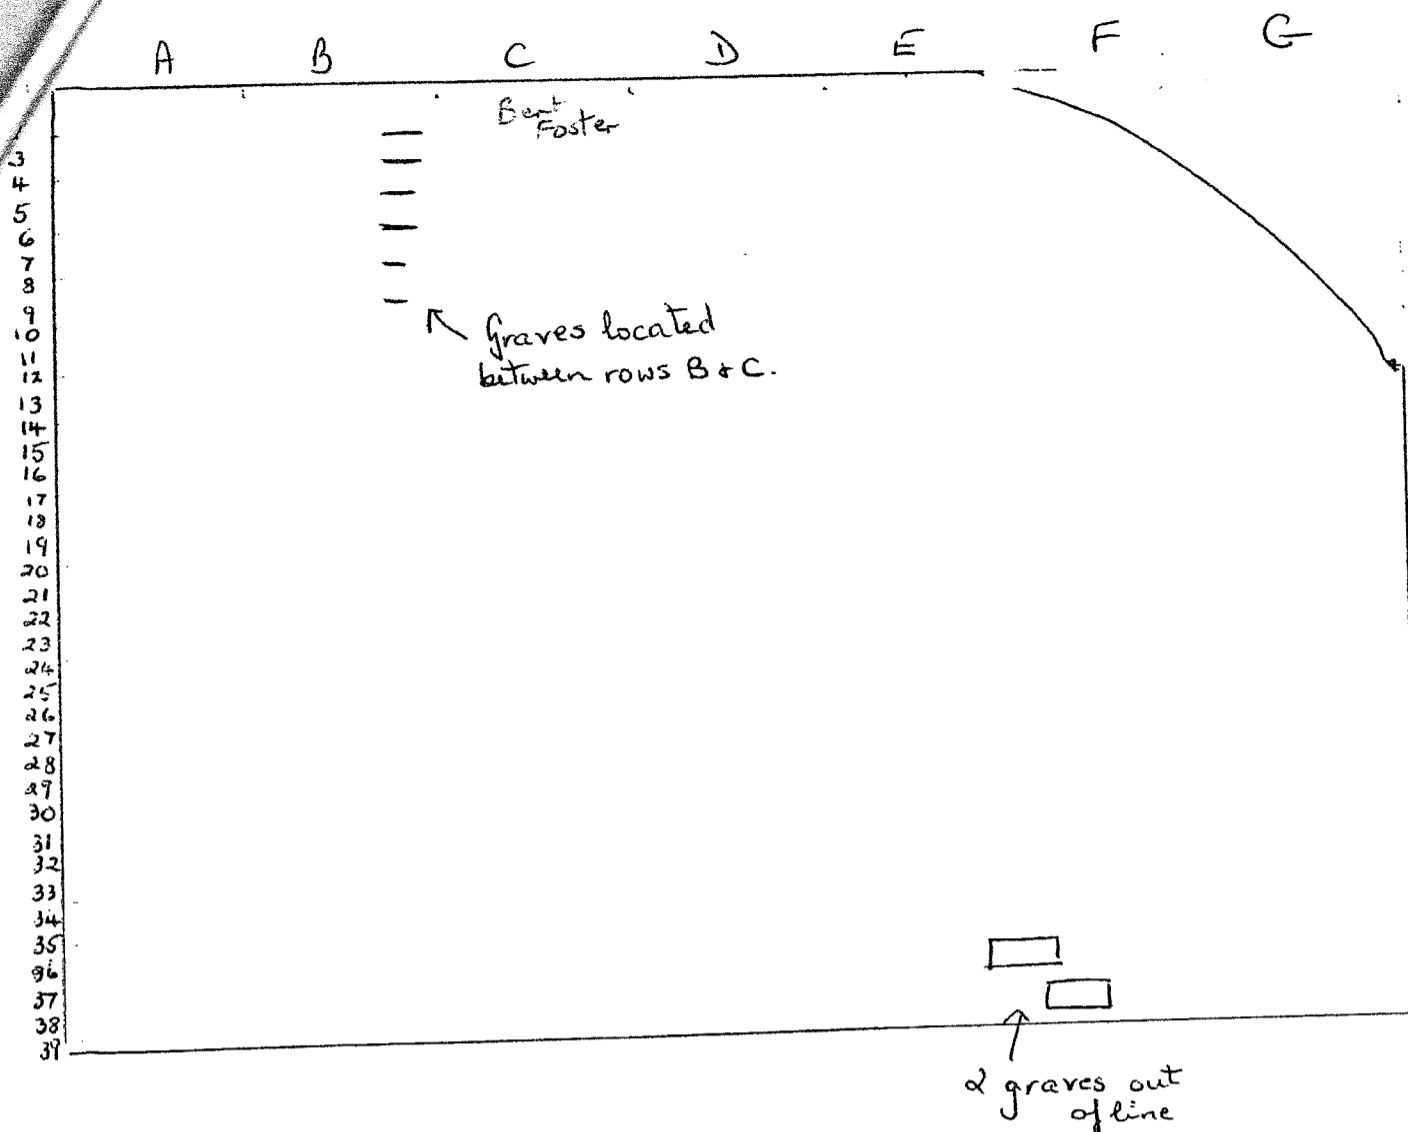

Graves marking the corners of this Zone are as follows:

- A1: No information on grave
- B1: Leonard David Banks d. 1958 (?) aged 31 (?)
- J1: No details on grave
- I1: Alice Maude Pitt d. 1961 aged 41
- A44: No information on grave
- A43 ~~B44~~: Thomas Benjamin Davies d. 1951 aged 43 etc
- J44: Florence Ellen Mattox d. 1949 aged 57

A43 + A42 + A41

Note that graves at A44 and ~~B44~~ are separated by the bend in the path from others in Zone B

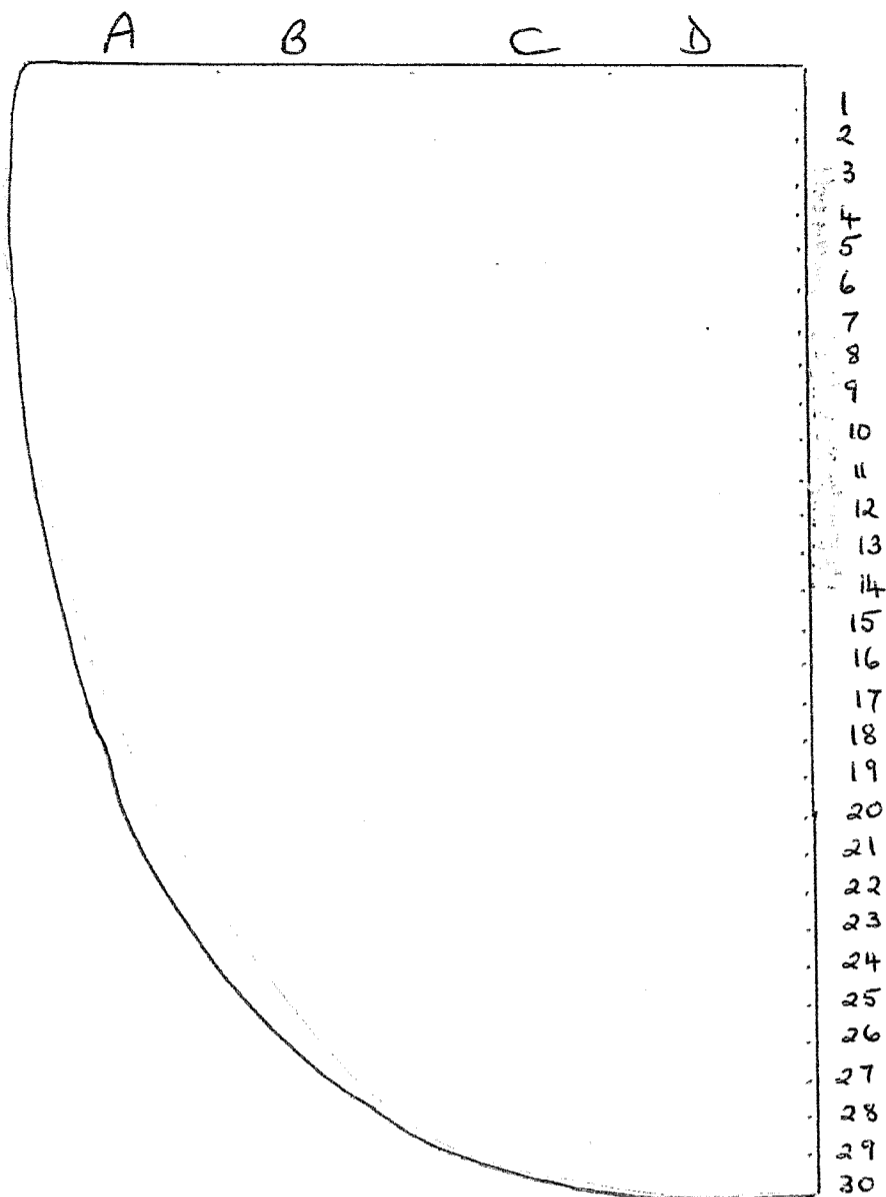

Graves marking the corners of this Zone are as follows:

- A1: A1 - rough ground
- A2: George Edward Bradley d. 1959 aged 56
- A38: Reginald Vincent (d. 1972 aged 69) & Emmie Hilda Durham (d. 1962 aged 49)
- G39: rough ground
- G38: Arthur Thomas Day d. 1950 aged 73
- F3: Arthur Gibbons d. 1980 aged 59.

There is a wedge of ground between rows B and C (see the top of the plan) with several graves in, only three of which are identifiable.

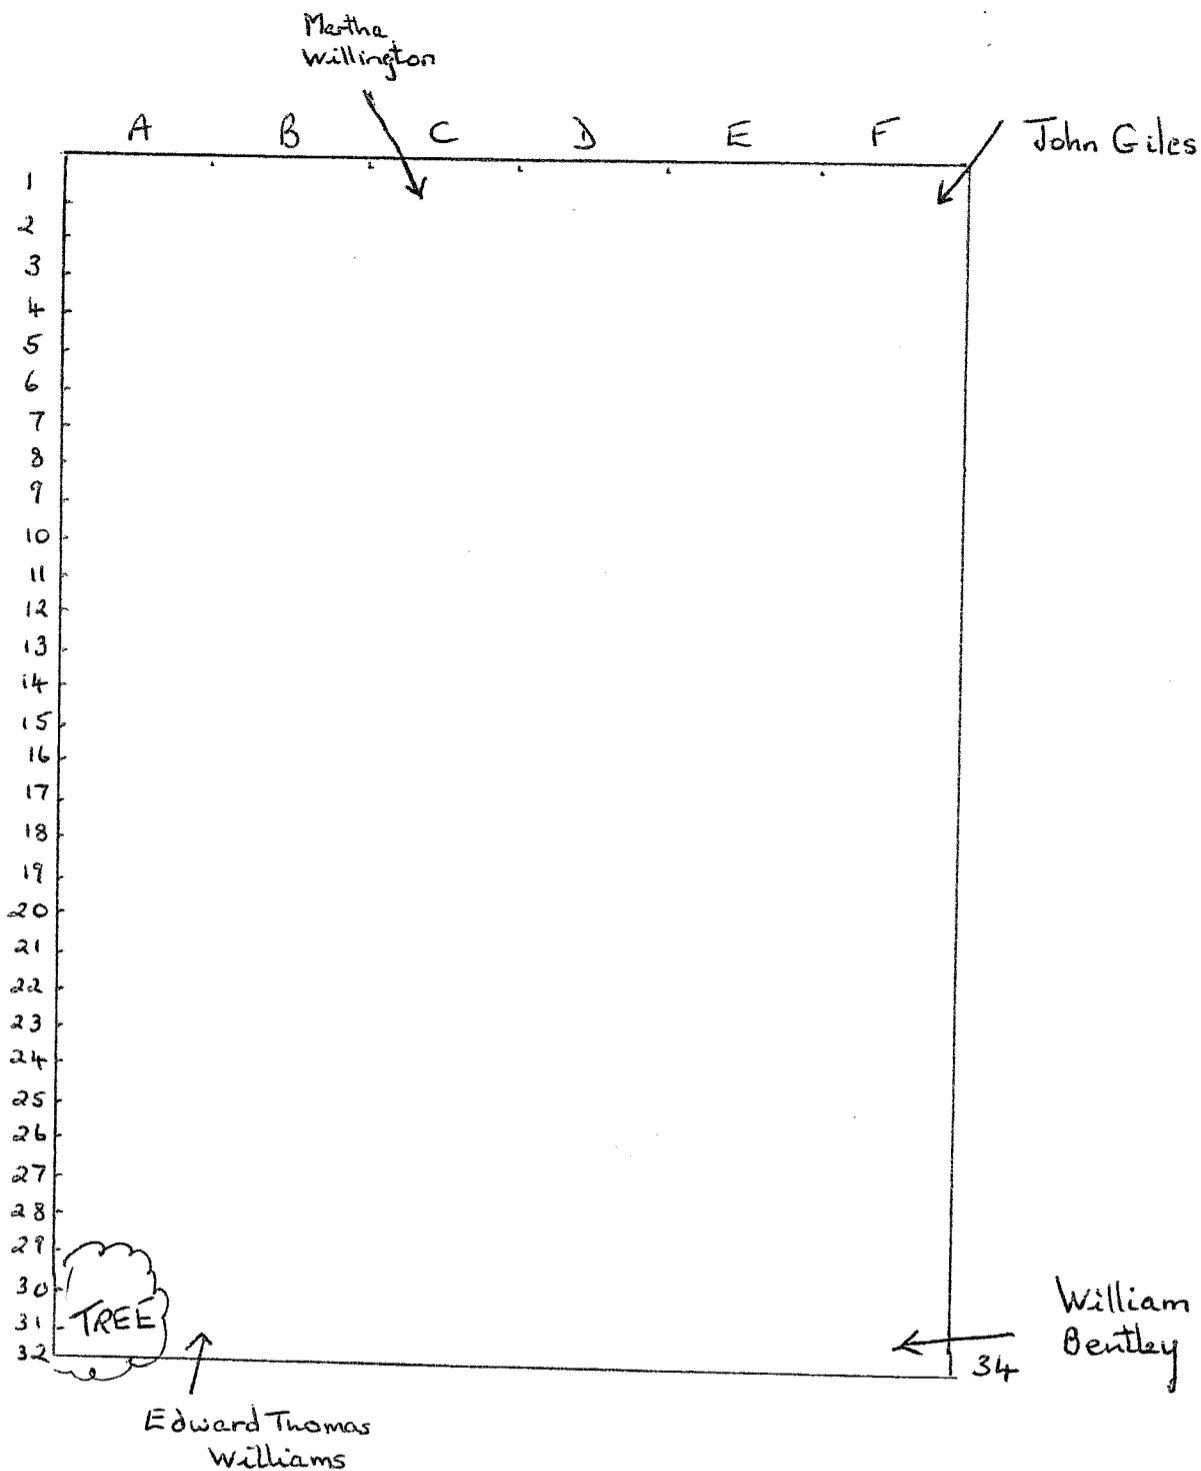

At the bottom right corner of Zone C, there are two graves that are out of line from the others (eg. Gerald Crutchley d. 1952 aged 3 weeks)

Graves marking the three corners of Zone D are as follows:

- A1: Howard Stephen Wilkes d. 1946 aged 57
- D1: John Telford Benn d. 1947 aged 22 etc
- D30: Ronald Mackenzie Wright d. 1943 aged 78

Note that an element of guesswork was involved in reckoning Row D to contain 30 graves because there are rough areas which may accommodate either one grave or two.

Graves marking the corners of Zone E are as follows:

Graves at A1 and B2 cannot be identified. The grave at C1 is that of Martha Willington (d. 1947)

F1 - John Giles d. 1948 etc

There is a tree at A32. The grave at B32 is that of Edward John Williams d. 1941

F34 - William Bentley d. 1946.

Note that there appears to be 32 graves in Row A but 34 in Row F
