Thoughts for the month ahead.

Thoughts from the Church Secretary

I hope you enjoyed the Easter period and had some time to relax or catch up with family or friends.

Easter had a more familiar feel in St Ives this year, with the bonus of some nice weather too!

As well as our Easter services in the Free Church, the Good Friday Walk of Witness took place again and we had a successful Easter Monday snack bar. Extra volunteer help will again be very welcome on the next Bank Holiday on 2nd May.

It's great to continue welcoming new and returning groups who hire space in our building. Future events include concerts and an art exhibition at the end of the month.

We'll be restarting our Thursday afternoon meetings with some of the migrants who have recently moved into St Ives. Talking with them certainly puts into perspective some of our own challenges.

It's both rewarding and humbling, at a time when compassion, honesty and empathy seem in short supply amongst some of our world leaders and politicians. We need to stay open to opportunities, however small or insignificant they may seem, to act as channels for the Holy Spirit working in the world.

Looking more widely, Christian Aid Week starts on 15th May. The combined effects of the Covid pandemic, drought, and the war in Ukraine are driving up food prices around the world. As always, the poorest are suffering the most, and this year's theme encourages us to help turn hunger into hope.

God bless, David

Easter Bank Holiday Snack Bar

This nearly didn't happen as we struggled to get volunteers. However we managed to get enough people in the end.

Many thanks to all those who turned up on the day.

We took a total of over £510, after a busy day, which made it all worthwhile.

The next one is on 2nd May and hopefully enough people will have signed the volunteer list on the landing for it to go ahead.

HIDDEN TREASURES

MUSIC, NAN AND ME

Inspiration, captivation

Sat with Nanny at the keys.

Watched her fingers flying madly

Up and down with dainty ease.

Sat on a cushion, wibbly wobbly,

Plinking plonking happy me,

Praise she poured out with happy clapping

Not so bad for only three.

Dearest Nan she loved Piano

Hum a tune and she would play,

Never taught, but didn't need it,

Fingers blessed to play away.

Every week at Sunday teatime

After meals and dishes done,

All the family were gathered

Uncles, Aunties, everyone.

Round Piano, Cockney chorus,

Red Red Robin, My Old Man,

One song led to another

Happy days and jolly Nan!

Music was my fascination

Lessons soon though money tight,

What a gift my parents gave me

Working hard through day and night.

I am old now, bones are cranky

Music though casts it's spell,

My Piano calls, entices,

I know Nan would smile as well.

MEET THE STAFF

GAIL WASE - OFFICE ADMINISTRATOR

What was the best part of your childhood?

Being a daughter of an RAF parent, we moved around a great deal and this led to the enjoyment of travelling.

What would you tell your school-leaver now?

Study well, get results and live in the moment and embrace the community and help whenever needed.

How about special interests and hobbies?

From my first job I really got into typesetting with various publications and designs. All the experience was valuable and met mostly interesting and various people which I still enjoy. By the time you read this, I'll be cruising!

What drew you to being a part of Free Church life?

I jumped at the possibility of being part of and getting to know a community within the Free Church, managing the various tasks required of me. Negotiating, chatting, helping and advising, when asked for, and no two days are ever the same.

Although I'm hidden in the office, I get around often to do different things so can make use of those differing things I learnt from the years before.

From the Church Secretary - Our Annual Return

Every year, as a URC church secretary I complete an annual return with information on our church life. This exercise is coordinated by Eastern Synod with statistics combined nationally. Form filling (albeit online) isn't my favourite task, and I was very grateful for the help and contributions from Catherine, Christine Macleod and Chris Curtis.

Here are some of the statistics submitted. At the end of 2021, we had 89 church members, compared with 92 a year earlier. Average attendance at Sunday worship was 40, down by 10 on 2020 which started pre-pandemic. However, we have been very pleased to welcome some new worshippers. So regular attendees who are not (yet!) church members rose from 10 to 12. Numbers participating in online worship declined from the peak of 40 as worship in the building returned. The number of children involved in midweek Tots and Carers has returned to its pre-pandemic figure of 20. Last year we had two infant baptisms, one infant blessing, one wedding, one marriage blessing, two funerals and two memorial services. This compares with 2020 when we were only able to hold one infant baptism, one wedding and one funeral.

Statistics only tell part of the story, and the fellowship, friendship and support which you provide each other can't be measured by numbers. No doubt 2022 will continue to provide its own opportunities and challenges, so who knows what we'll be reporting this time next year?

God bless,

David Duffett

CLIMATE CHANGE and BIOREGIONS...

... were mentioned when chatting with a neighbour!
He was upset by the dismal appearance of the azaleas and rhodies!
Classical example of plants not being in their natural habitat. (Bioregion)

The fruit orchards that used to surround our village, Oakington, are now mostly gone, the local clay was perfect for this crop; they have been replaced with estates and hundreds of acres of heavily sprayed grain.

If we grow what's suited to the area the plants will be strong and not need to be so intensely sprayed with herbicides, fungicide and insecticides which, of course, will bump up the final cost of the crop but worse, kill the dear little grass hoppers that we used to love and now miss.

Last summer I didn't see or hear a yellowhammer or bullfinch, did you? No shortage of blue tits though, all doing a wonderful job keepings the aphids at bay. Are the plants you grow in your gardens suited to your soil?

Here's a photo taken last summer of unsprayed sunflowers growing near Walsham le Willows on light, sandy Suffolk soil and adapting to climate change.

And a sprayed wheat field near Oakington (agricultural desert) that should be growing fruit or even cowslips.

The cowslip photo was taken on the farm of my cousin near Stratford-upon-Avon.

Love to you all,

Char

EASTER CELEBRATIONS 2022

On Good Friday we gathered outside our church after the Walk of Witness from the Parish Church.

The Somersham Town Band were there to accompany the open air service.

This was followed by a Lent lunch in the Hall.

On Easter Day we gathered together to celebrate in the Holy Communion café-style service.

The singing rang out, much coffee and goodies shared and mini eggs delivered to all who were there.

All in all, a wonderful and memorable event.

Welcome back, Tapestry!

'Typically Tapestry' was the title of the Lunchtime Concert given in March by the very popular 'A Capella' Tapestry Singers.

It was a carefully chosen programme of music to suit every taste, which included traditional pieces by Elgar, Byrd and Tallis as well as more modern close harmony arrangements.

All were well received by an appreciative audience. It was a delight to hear once again the distinct Tapestry sound in our building after a long absence due to covid restrictions.

Many past performances by Tapestry have been given in support of The Free Church and this lunchtime concert raised a brilliant £120.

Thank you, Tapestry - please come again. SD
