Canon Tim Montgomery is the Missional Leadership Development Officer for Liverpool Diocese helping leaders and teams engage in the challenges and opportunities of leading mission and growth.

He currently heads up a variety of transformational projects focused on the post-industrial towns of Wigan, St Helens, Warrington and Widnes as well as in the City of Liverpool itself. He has also helped to develop a radical growth project for the whole Diocese called ‘Fit for Mission’ which has just begun its six-year journey.

Tim is Chief Executive of Emmaus Leadership, a charity providing Companion Coaches to help Christian leaders and their teams pursue a fresh vision of transformation.

Tim’s background is in education and charity management, specialising in start-ups and leading organisational change. He has been a teacher, school youth worker, director of two charities, developer of two charitable projects, a church leader, a diocesan adviser and the leader of two Church of England strategic projects focused on the mission of the Church.
