

On the left in boxes are some of the people in the passage. On the right are the thoughts they might have had.

Can you draw a line to join the thoughts with the people who had them?

If you were the priest when he saw the injured man?

If you were Jesus thinking about this story as He told?

If you were the robbers when they took the man's money and ran off?

If you were the Samaritan when he decided to be a real friend?

If you were the traveller who was hurt?

"I am so frightened! There's no-one here to help me!"

"This poor man is badly hurt, I really must help him!"

"I must hurry on before the robbers attack me!"

"I hope people will be like the Samaritan - a real friend!"

"Now we have the money, let's run off before anyone comes!"

Thinking about today's Bible passage.

Has there been a time when you were able to help somebody out, what did you do?

Is there anything you can be doing to help others this week?

Talk with a grown up about what it means to show mercy.

Think of a way that you might show mercy this week
