

Harvest Resources for Families and Schools

At this time of year, many churches and schools would normally be holding a Harvest Festival service or celebration. A Harvest Festival is often a service which brings together all ages to celebrate God's goodness in creation and to remember our responsibility to care for those who do not have as much as us. We might have to do things a little or a lot differently this year, but there are lots of great ideas and resources out there for holding a socially distanced Harvest Festival celebration at home, school or church.

Bradford Cathedral Messy Harvest 2019

Here are pictures of some of the things we tried out for our Messy Harvest at Bradford Cathedral in 2019.

There was bread-making with Canon Mandy. The children had great fun kneading the dough

We listened to the Creation story and there was singing, colouring and crafts.

We wrote prayers of thanks and hung them on our Prayer Tree

Whilst our bread was baking we went outside and planted bulbs, even though it was raining heavily!

Eventually we came back inside, dried off, gave thanks for what God has given us, then sat down and ate together- including the bread we had made!

Happy Harvest Festival!
