Comfort and Joy.

Those are the words that the Church of England has chosen to focus on this month in the lead up to Christmas. Both have been in short supply in 2020. It has been and continues to be an uncomfortable time. The mood music has been dominated by anxiety, impatience and weariness. Yes, vaccines are beginning to be rolled out, which is a reason to be joyful, but as we are constantly being told there is some distance to go on this yet.

Where was the comfort and joy in the nativity story? Nowhere obvious is the answer. Not in the streets of the city, not in the homes of the powerful and wealthy, not in the charisma and rhetoric of a leader. Tidings of comfort and joy were declared in a field at night, in the cry of a new-born child lying in an animal trough. Comfort and joy happened in unexpected places with equally unexpected people. As Malcolm Guite observed, 'Christmas sets the centre at the edge.'

Christmas is God inviting us to recentre our lives around a gift too wonderful for words, to embrace worship and wonder as a springboard to living grace-fully, not fear-fully.

Comfort and joy indeed.

A blessed Christmas and a New Year filled with hope to you all.

Dean Jerry

Pre-Christmas opening times continue into the New Year.

From our correspondent in Khartoum, Fiona Beevers

Many thanks to Dean Jerry for inviting me to contribute to this Cathedral Update.

"Christmas won't be Christmas without ..." the opening words from LM Alcott's book, 'Little Women' ring all too true for many people this year.

It certainly feels different living in Khartoum where I'm struck once again by the contrasts between here and UK as we move towards celebrating the birth of Christ. It's not just the absence of the commercialisation so many of us bemoan, although we are unconsciously conditioned to it, or even the weather; Sudanese will tell you it's winter but think a pleasant summer's morning breeze followed by a very hot summer's day, to signal the turning of the year. I have realised how reliant I am on the cycles of the seasons and in the absence of these I have become more intentional about how I want to live through Advent, rather than being carried along by the tsunami of things to do and places to be.

For only the second time in over 30 years 25th December will be a public holiday in Sudan - a sign of the post revolution's interim government's intention to enshrine freedom of religion. Inevitably, this Christmas will be different due to the effect of the pandemic and the economic problems here in Sudan.

In many ways, Khartoum feels like being Alice in Wonderland; Officially, the banqueting halls where weddings and family parties, are closed as are the community social 'clubs' and the PM has asked people to wear masks and practice physical and social distancing because of the rise in COVID cases and deaths and the dire situation of the hospitals - no medicines or equipment and insufficient personnel to handle the spike in cases. In reality, many people are still gathering in crowded situations without masks - witness the funeral of former PM and prominent political leader Sadiq al-Mahdi, last weekend, where thousands lined the streets. Government schools have not opened this academic year whilst independent / international schools have reverted to online teaching as a precaution against the rapidly increasing number of people testing positive for COVID-19. Parents tell me how scared they are of the children passing on the virus to vulnerable family members but the adults still go out to work and to social gatherings and don't seem to think they might be the asymptotic ones!

The government is caught in a complex situation; economically the country cannot cope with another lockdown; inflation continues to rise and impact on the cost and standard of living. There are still queues for bread and fuel and many businesses have not reopened since they closed back in March. The health situation is critical. Yet, for many the need to go to work is a matter of survival, especially the day wage workers who live hand to mouth, literally. No furlough or benefits here. And so it continues.

At the same time I have been struck by resonances of life in Sudan this year with the first Christmas:

- For most, life goes on with no recognition of the imminent season - nothing out of the ordinary is happening it seems.
- A child born in poverty increasing numbers of people living on the streets
- A homeless refugee many fleeing from the recent ongoing conflict in Tigray, adding to those from previous conflict zones.

Signs of hope - any day now, Sudan is due to be removed from the list of states promoting terrorism, and the commitment of the Sovereign Council to human rights, all of which will take time to take effect but are signs of new beginnings no matter how fragile.

What of the Christian communities? Places of worship are open, and services being held as 'normal' (with some additional hygiene measures). So churches are marking the season of Advent and preparing for Christmas services. Christmas Day is a time of great celebration for Sudanese Christians with joyful praise and thankfulness. In other times and especially in regions away from Khartoum it is a time for the community to celebrate together in more traditional ways to feast and with singing and dancing.

This year Christmas may look different but the heart of the celebration; the birth of the baby who is God Almighty, does not change whether in Khartoum, El Fashir or Bradford. Christians will celebrate the 'hope-filled morning' joyfully and pray for the coming of God's Kingdom on earth.

Wishing you all a hope-filled, happy Christmas and a healthy, peaceful new year.

People News

Sarah Field-Blesic, Chief Operating Officer

Sarah has held this role since early June 2018. During this time, we have had three momentous years. 2018 saw many new staff arriving, 2019 was our Centenary Year and 2020... well, need we say more! We have benefited hugely from her hard work. She has put in place more professional ways of working and facilitated Chapter in developing a new strategy. Her concern for detail and correct process has been exemplary and we shall miss her courageous ability to challenge! Sarah has always had the concerns of this Cathedral at the heart of everything that she has done. She leaves behind a staff team that is larger than ever and happy too. Thank you so much Sarah! We wish you well as you take a well-earned sabbatical and discern your future.

Andy McCarthy, new Chief Operating Officer

On Monday 11th January, Andy will start as our new COO. We look forward to working with him as he focuses on Chapter's Strategy, financial sustainability and the governance changes that will be introduced now that the new Cathedrals Measure has been passed by General Synod. Welcome to Andy.

Sharon Link, new Income Development Officer

Welcome to Sharon who will be taking over from Andy McCarthy in this role on 11th January. Sharon comes to us with significant experience of Fundraising in this part of Yorkshire.

Jasmin Brearton, new Executive Assistant

Welcome to Jasmin who will be joining us from the 4th January. This is a new post working with the Chief Operating Officer and the Director of Finance.

Prebendary Pat Dearnley (R.I.P.) Pat Dearnley died on 12th November. He was a great friend of this Cathedral. During the time when there were no residential clergy at the Cathedral in 2004-2005 he was one of the five clergy who kept the show on the road. He continued to maintain a real interest in subsequent years. Both Pat and Dot enjoyed the choral music, particularly the Christmas Eve concert. On a number of occasions. I met Pat in Booths in Ilkley. He had popped in for milk and just got caught up in conversation. Two hours later... At his Thanksgiving Service in All Saints Ilkley there was story after story! He was a friend to so many and always interested. His commitment to the church addressing matters of poverty and justice meant that he was the ideal person to head up the response to Faith in the City. His national contribution in the last quarter of the twentieth century was significant. We thank God for Pat and pray for Dot in her loss.

Bishop Colin Buchanan has written an obituary in the Church Times and you can read it at https://www.churchtimes.co.uk/articles/2020/4-december/gazette/obituaries/obituary-prebendary-patrick-dearnley

Day of Reflection: Finding New Ways to God

Saturday 27th February | 10am-3pm

The Bradford Area Prayer and Spirituality Team invite you to this day of reflection, held online via Zoom and led by Nicholas Clews.

Those taking part will be invited to spend a number of periods in personal, quiet prayer, moving from familiar well-tried methods to new and more challenging ones. A bible, notebook and pen would all be useful. Booking is essential; please contact nicholas.clews@leeds.anglican.org

Living in Love and Faith Coming in January 2021

How do questions about identity, sexuality, relationships and marriage fit within the bigger picture of the good news of lesus Christ? What does it mean to live in love and faith together as a Church?

These are questions that are addressed through the Church of England's Living in Love and Faith resources.

The steering group for launching the resources in the Diocese of Leeds, chaired by the Area Bishop of Ripon, has approached Bradford Cathedral to offer some online pilot sessions using these resources between January and March 2021. They will be led by Emma Wilkinson (ordinand at Ridley Hall, Cambridge and member of the Cathedral congregation) on a Monday evening. More information to follow.

You can register an interest in this course by e-mailing patodean@ bradfordcathedral.org and find out more at https://www.churchofengland.org/ resources/living-love-and-faith.

The Diocesan Rhythm of Life project

Lent 2021

Bishop Nick writes:

"As Christians, we believe lesus should be at the heart of our rhythms of life, whatever our circumstances. This will have a far-reaching impact on our own well-being and the good of others - on our loving, living and learning. I would like to invite you to join the diocesan 'Rhythm of Life' venture. This will involve individual commitments, accessing resources and mutual support. Some key areas will be given special attention: praying, encouraging, sharing, reflecting, celebrating, resting and creating."

Discover more about this at https:// www.leeds.anglican.org/rhythm-of-life.

We shall be exploring this more during Lent.

Education News

Bradford Cathedral Schools'
Christmas Service video
We have put together a Schools'
Christmas Service video, which is available online, for schools to use at the end of term.

We initially decided to make the video because many schools who would normally have visited us this year have been unable to do so, but we hope that it will also be relevant to schools who have never visited Bradford Cathedral before.

The theme of the video is Comfort and Joy and we have used a star as our symbol. Some schools asked their pupils how they felt they could bring Comfort and Joy to others this Christmas and some of these "star commitments" by children can be seen in the video.

The video includes:

- a Christmas dramatized reading and prayers led by children
- music and actions by John Froud and the Zephaniah Trust
- "Away in a Manger" sung by the girl choristers
- a short talk about Christmas and a Blessing by Canon Mandy
- pictures and close ups of stars made and decorated by children with their commitments of how they wish to bring comfort and joy to others this Christmas
- Images of the Cathedral at Christmas.

You can view the video at https://www.bradfordcathedral.org/education/christmas-schools-service/

New schools' digital resources for Advent and Christmas

In early December we added a range of Advent and Christmas resources for schools, from Early Years to GCSE Level, to our recently-established area for digital resources. This means that schools that would normally visit us at this time of year but are unable to do so this year, will still be able to engage with the Cathedral and to undertake Advent and Christmas activities that would normally take place in the Cathedral. There are also resources for pupils and teachers that provide background information on this important time of year in the Christian calendar.

The full collection of digital resources and activities cover a range of topics in RE, as well as local history, creative writing and observational drawing, with seasonal resources for Lent and Easter, Harvest, Interfaith Week and Remembrance, as well as the new resources related to Advent and Christmas

Schools' Linking Online and our Community Heritage Volunteers

The Education team is continuing to work with The Linking Network on a programme of schools' linking visits, even though physical visits cannot take place this year. Our workshops and activities have been adapted so that they can be accessed by the paired schools, who will "discover" Bradford Cathedral from their own school but as part of a shared experience with their partner school. We are delighted that pupils will still be able to engage with the Cathedral during schools' linking virtual visits.

We are also pleased to say that our well-established links with the pupils of Lapage Primary School, who have acted as our Community Heritage Volunteers for a number of years, will pick up again next term. Small groups of pupils will come down to the Cathedral to film segments that will form part of a virtual visit experience for their peers in five other schools.

MyChurchSuite

Everyone receiving this update should have access to MyChurchSuite. This is accessible from a PC, tablet or mobile phone and gives you information about all forthcoming events at the Cathedral, as well as links to online giving and access to change your personal details, including uploading a picture of yourself. We particularly encourage you to upload a picture if you have not done so already.

If you have any problems or questions about MyChurchSuite please email churchsuite@ bradfordcathedral.org

White Rose Awards

We are delighted to announce that we are the recipients of the Gold White Rose Award for Small Visitor Attraction of the Year 2020. This is an astonishing tribute to everyone who makes this Cathedral 'happen.' Mention in particular should be given to our Director of Education and Visitors, Maggie Myers, and the Communication, Marketing and Events Officer, Phil Lickley, who did the work leading up to the Award but it reflects the welcome and work that we did in our Centenary Year to open the doors wider and connect with a larger audience.

Volunteering Opportunities

Live-streaming

Over the last year this online ministry has suddenly become incredibly important for the future of the cathedral. Can you help us to reach out to the online community? We need to build a team of volunteers who can help us with the technology for our online worship. Be at the cutting edge of our development. We can train you. Please email Canon Paul Maybury on paul.maybury@bradfordcathedral.org

Artspace

The city is building up to its bid for City of Culture 2025 and the Cathedral is looking to play a key part. Artspace has new leadership and a new strategy but we need someone who can act as secretary to the team. This also is a really interesting opportunity for someone with administration gifts and an interest in the arts. Please contact Canon Paul Maybury on paul.maybury@bradfordcathedral.org

News from the Safeguarding Team

All the staff at the Cathedral have had a busy year working hard to maintain high safeguarding standards, continually adapting to the everchanging covid 19 regulations. The safeguarding team works closely with all the departments to continually review and improve our practices, including on our digital platforms. Preparation work is also underway for our safeguarding audit, which will be conducted by IICSA in the summer of 2021.

As a team we have also been working closely with the diocesan safeguarding team, led by Carla Derbyshire, who was appointed this year and the national team. We also have been working collaboratively with safeguarding leads in Cathedrals across the country.

Training has always been an important element to our safeguarding provision and the Church of England has produced a new suite of on-line training courses. These are easily accessible through our own diocesan training portal and are open to anyone for free, at https://learning.leeds.anglican.org

Different groups of people in the Cathedral will be asked to undertake different levels of training, but we think this is so important that we would really like to encourage everyone to do the Basic Awareness (C0) training. It is an on-line course that you can do in the comfort of your own home and only takes about 70 minutes. It's a great way to find out more about what the Church of England is doing with safeguarding. We would also like to know if you've done the training. This will really help us in our record keeping. If you would like to know more, you can visit our website or contact one of the team directly through our email safeguarding@bradfordcathedral.org

And finally, as we prepare to say farewell to Sarah Field-Blesic, a huge thank you for the amazing work that Sarah has done as part of the safeguarding team especially concerning the extensive risk assessments and audit preparation work. We will miss her greatly, and wish her well for the future.

May you all have a safe and joy-filled Christmas

Canon Mandy & Ian Price, your safeguarding officers

Reimagining our Ministry Appeal

As you know, we have recently launched a public appeal to raise funds to develop a new digital infrastructure at the Cathedral. This will allow us to build on the many opportunities we have provided during Covid-19 for people to access services, events and pastoral support virtually. We believe this investment will equip us to grow our Cathedral community, nurture faith in exciting new ways, enrich city life and resource the wider church.

By 13th December we have raised in donations and Gift Aid.

£17,000

Thank you to all those who have contributed. It is a great effort. In the New Year we will hear about the grant applications but we are keen to get on with this work so please keep the donations coming!

So, please do support the appeal if you can.

You can make a donation:

- By clicking Reimagining our Ministry APPEAL
- By sending a cheque made payable to 'Bradford Cathedral' to Reimagining our Ministry, Bradford Cathedral, I Stott Hill. Bradford. BD I 4EH

Cathedral Building Works in 2021

We can announce that the cathedral has received a grant of just under £145,000 from the Culture Recovery Fund. This will enable us to attend to some necessary repairs that were itemised in our quinquennial survey by our architect. We shall be attending to the floor in the nave, removal of asbestos in the south ambulatory, roof repairs and the stonework and mortar around the clerestory windows. This is great news, particularly as it has to be done by 31st March! In addition, we are hoping to start the long-awaited upgrade on the Parish Rooms in the first quarter of next year. So, whilst the pandemic is going to continue to restrict our opening times, we will be preparing the buildings for a better experience when everyone returns!

Cathedral Giving

Thank you

I would like to say a huge thank you to our congregation, friends and supporters who have generously continued to make a regular gift, or have made a special one-off donation, during the past few months. We have had some great success in securing grants from a variety of sources, but your support has been absolutely vital to us in our attempts to respond to the financial challenges posed by Covid-19.

If you make a regular gift to the Cathedral, please do continue to do so. This can be done in a number of ways:

- By visiting bradfordcathedral. churchsuite.co.uk/donate/ to donate securely via Church Suite
- By setting up a standing order see our bank details below

 By using a partnership or donation envelope when attending a service in person please ask a member of the clergy if you are unsure where to find these.

Some of our regular givers have been placing their gift in a partnership envelopes at home each week. Again, a huge thank you! We hope to see you soon, but if you feel it is unlikely you will be able to join us for a service in the near future, you might want to consider forwarding your total gift monies to us as a cheque or via bank transfer. Please send us your envelopes too so that we are able to claim Gift Aid!
