THOUGHT FOR THE MONTH

May 2024

Canon Paul Hardingham considers the Ascension, which this year we commemorate on Thursday 9th May

The Truth of the Ascension

'While He was blessing them, Jesus left them and was taken up into heaven.' (Luke 24:51).

The Ascension is a hugely neglected festival, which deserves to have a bigger place in our church life. How do we understand it?

The Ascension tells us that Jesus is in control: 'Jesus has gone into heaven and is at God's right hand' (1 Peter 3:22). Jesus occupies the top spot in the universe; the control of our world is in the safe, scarred hands of Jesus. We can offer Him our worship and allegiance, knowing that His plans are better than those of any Prime Minister or President.

The Ascension tells us that God is committed to His world: 'And God raised us up with Christ and seated us with Him in the heavenly realms in Christ Jesus' (Ephesians 2:6). Jesus did not leave His humanity behind when He ascended, for we are raised with Christ to heaven. Therefore, God is bound to His world and we can trust Him to fulfil His purposes for our lives and world.

The Ascension gives us a job to do: 'All authority in heaven and on earth has been given to Me. Therefore, go and make disciples of all nations' (Matthew 28:18,19). God's way of working in the world is through us. He commissions us for this task at the Ascension and equips us at Pentecost. We are called to make disciples, starting in our workplace, family and community.

'Christ has no body now but yours. No hands, no feet on earth but yours. Yours are the eyes through which He looks compassion on this world. Yours are the feet with which He walks to do good. Yours are the hands through which He blesses all the world.' (Teresa of Avila).

Part two of a delightful article sent in by Ella Heaney, who also wrote the introduction. (Next instalment in June's magazine.)

INTRODUCTION

This article was written by a gentleman called Frank Buzzard round about 1990. He had been an accountant and when he retired, he and his wife decided to go on a pilgrimage to visit every cathedral in the country. He wrote his impression of each one and also commented on the city and surrounding area. After he died, he left his writing and £5,000 to each cathedral.

This is his account (sometimes amusing) of St Nicholas' Cathedral in Newcastle.

Surprised on entering to find no welcoming person and no donation box in prominent position; not that I minded, it's just unusual in the 1990's. A memorial to Admiral Collingwood attracted my attention for I served on a base ship of that name. He was a hero of Trafalgar, surviving that great battle by a few years, dying in 1810, when he was buried in Saint Paul's, London, beside his friend, the never to be forgotten Nelson. Each year on Trafalgar Day a civic ceremony takes place alongside this memorial for Collingwood was baptised and married in this building. We are kept in touch with the sea by the Danish Memorial. This two inch thick black chunk of slate honours Danish seamen who perished during the Second World war in words of their own language.

As in most cathedrals much time and writing space could be devoted to Memorials. Maddison's family is colourfully massive beyond recognition; he was destined for throwing out in 1783 until pleas from the Parish Clerk saved him.

Suddenly music burst out. A group of 15 or so young people formed a circle and sang in a foreign tongue. After about five minutes a verger or some such official asked them what they were doing. "Singing religious music" seemed an obvious enough reply. "You have no appointment". "No, do we need one?" "We are from Germany and just want to praise God for half an hour". "Ok" said the official and left them. They eventually broke circle and moved in small groups to different parts of the cathedral, singing in harmony in a style reminiscent of monks chanting and I enjoyed listening as I wandered.

With Trinity Sunday (26th May) to remember ...

Tell me how it is that in this room there are three candles and but one light, and I will explain to you the mode of the divine existence.

I wouldn't want to mislead you by doing other than saying however easy it would be for me to answer the question you have asked, it is not fair for me to go further than I have. And I would not read too much into that.

There are some interesting pieces of news in the LINK newspaper, including Bishop Helen-Ann marking one year as Bishop of Newcastle.

Also check out pages 10 and 11, where the Bishop's Advisor on the Environment (our very own Revd Tim Mayfield) has written a piece about our precious world.

Unfortunately at St Alban's we have not had the hard copies of the CofE Newspaper for quite some time. Maybe that's something we can pick up again?

In the meantime, here is the hyperlink to the online version of THE LINK link-spring-2024-final.pdf \(d3hgrrlq6yacptf.cloudfront.net\))

* To all of you who took your paper copy of April's magazine only to find it was not stapled, please accept my sincere apologies. I didn't realise until I was delivering some around Earsdon etc. and I found they were disarranging themselves. *

* Our super printer/copier machine folds and staples the magazines itself, but on this occasion it was only pretending to do the stapling, making all the right sounds, but it had run out of actual staples. *

* Apologies again, and I promise to try harder in future. *

Weather for the month. Direct From the Captain's Charts.

General Synopsis for the North East of England. From – 28/04/24 to 08/05/24.

This weekend's rain will probably clear from the east and the northeast of our location to leave a drier day on Monday the 29th, although the chance of showers and even thunderstorms remain. Cloudier and wetter weather is likely to quickly arrive into the west, and slide east across southern areas early next week, so the majority of the week will be characterised by wetter weather in the south and drier weather in the north with a chance of rain or even thundery showers for a time in the east and along the coast. Temperatures are likely to trend upwards, with the chance of a warm to very warm spell in some southern and eastern parts but sadly not in the North East.

A further look ahead from – 09/05/24 to 23/05/24.

During this period, the chance of unsettled weather is slightly less than usual in the north and about the same as usual further south. Therefore, some spells of wetter weather are likely for all areas, with the driest conditions probably further north. Temperatures near average although with some cooler interludes possible. It is also worth noting that average temperature rise by around 1C per week at this time of year.

The Atlantic Pressure Chart Forecast for Sunday the 28th April 2024.

The warm front passing the north east will probably lend itself to transient weather resulting in rain showers. The low pressure (centered in the English Channel) will give rise to a cool northerly light to moderate winds. Eventually turning north westerly. Average temperatures 10 C during the day and 6 C during the night.

CHURCH VIEWS FOR MAY 2024 FROM THE PARISH OF OUR LADY, STAR OF THE SEA

Little Sisters of the Poor

The Chapel at St Joseph's Home

The Little Sisters of the Poor, part of the Church in Newcastle since 1866, have had to launch an appeal to maintain the highest standards for their residents at St Joseph's on Wesmorland Road.

They recently refurbished, and in some cases re-installed, the lifts for residents and now, for their further safety, they are about to replace the flooring in the main corridors, and update some of the kitchenettes and furnishings. As a visitor I have always been really impressed by the staff as well as the buildings. I'm obviously not alone in that - the parish retiring collections on Good Shepherd Sunday - how appropriate - raised £613.

Restoring IHM Grounds

Remember summer? Work begins on our beautiful grounds and gardens on 21 May. The cut back and re-shaping of shrubs, trees and our near-hidden grotto will take two or three days.

We can look forward to a brighter summer, and if you want to take a cutting from a favourite to enjoy in your own garden, now is the time.

River deep, mountain high...

Our Walking Group doesn't do mountains, not even little ones, but in rain soaked April, on some walks the streams did become rivers deep. Where once you could stroll across and not really get your boots wet, last month even wellies wouldn't have been enough. The next walks, each about six miles or so, will be on (drier?) 7th May and 21st May.

Holy Island Vinnies (SVP) Camp

The SVP Lindisfarne Children's Camp is one of seven in the country - soon to be eight when another opens in Manchester. It has been established now for almost a hundred years and has hosted thousands of child-centred holidays. 'Camp' doesn't really do it justice; the accommodation and catering are much better than that. Supervised holidays for boys and girls in Years 5, 6 and 7 will take place this August at £150 for the week including travel. The SVP can assist those who might struggle to fund it. More information on holyislandapplications@svp.org.uk

Well done the Social Committee

The April Cheese, Wine, Quiz and Ukelele Band Night - they couldn't squeeze much more into a title could they? - was a great success, raising £435 towards building a Health Clinic in the developing world. The next event will be the Summer Fair to take place on Sunday 26 May. Help on stalls and in the kitchen would be appreciated. See you there!

Parish Mass Times

St Edward's: Sunday 10.00am, Tuesday, Thursday, Saturday 9.30am

Imaculate Heart of Mary: Saturday 6.00pm, Wednesday, Friday 9.30am

During the week, coffee and biscuits are served for a chat and catch-up after Masses on Wednesdays at Immaculate Heart and Thursdays at St Edward's.

6 - The Lounge/Music Room

Lounge/Music Room

This is another of my favourite rooms where the twins Freddie and Winnie spend their time playing the piano. Their Grandfather also bought them a harp which they are anxious to learn when a bit older.

This is again a lovely big room with a bay window and sea view. Their parrot sits in its cage in the window and is very vocal! The chandelier and wall lights also came from a shop in Covent Garden and the walls are papered in a pretty shade of aquamarine. There's a very nice fireplace with a mirror above and on the mantelpiece 2 China dogs and a clock. On the hearth there's a brass Companion Set and on the side there's a bell pull which I embroidered (together with a footstool) to summon Nora the maid.

There is also a screen to protect you from the heat of the fire. a pretty blue carpet on the floor and the furniture is covered in a gold cloth. The curtains are made to match, and I might add made from one of my 'tops'!

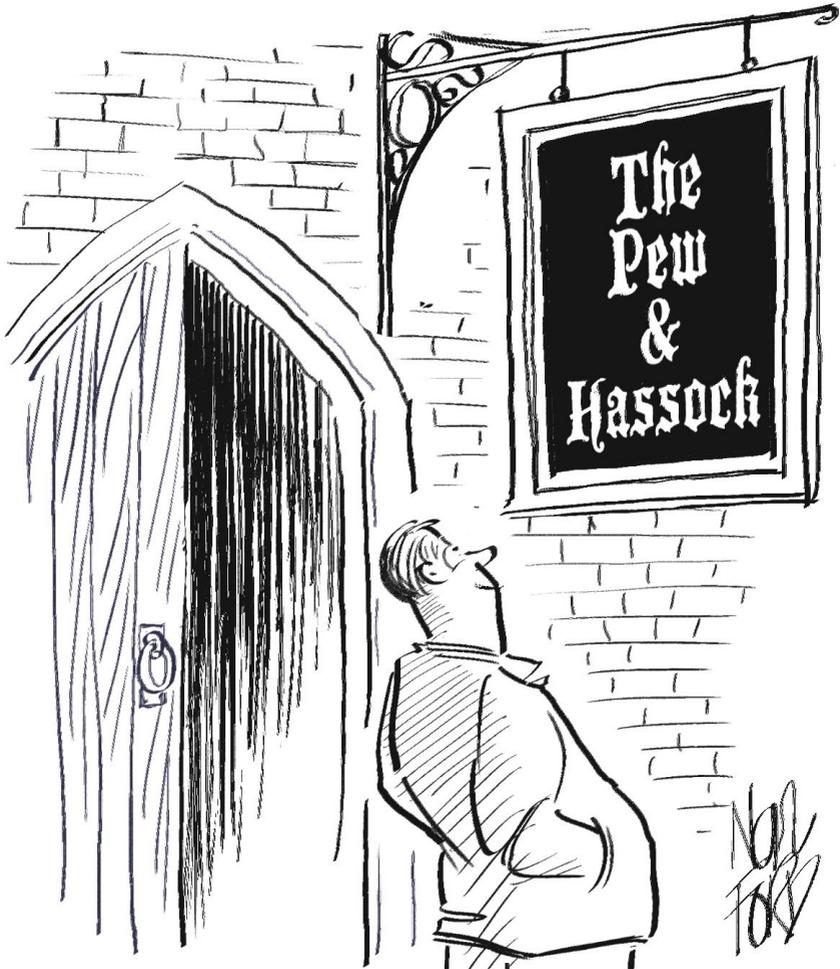

There is a round oak table in the middle of the room with flowers and the usual magazines. The piano came in a kit and was a present from Bill my partner for several years, who assembled it. It's noted for the candelabra which were used when there was no electric light. Nothing to do with this but I well remember my paternal grandparents playing duets well into their eighties!

There are one or two pieces around like the waste bin and a little kitten Terry bought me which I had to look at through a magnifier it was so small. Don't know how people can make these tiny things, it even has whiskers!

At Christmas this is where they have a large tree with fairy lights and hopefully presents! Out through the crystal handled door into the hallway where there is a working Grandfather clock, a hallstand, a container for sticks and umbrellas and a croquet set.

Next time, my favourite room the Dining Room.

Unfortunately we currently have no pictures of Helen's magnificent Dolls' House lounge and music room, but we might include one or two next month, if possible.

Changing the name from St Alban's Church resulted in a big increase in the number of people attending.

Anna Chaplain Messy Vintage Event

We had a lovely afternoon at our 2nd Messy Vintage at Eccles Hall, the ladies were painting with watercolour pencils, and seemed to enjoy it immensely, here are some photos of the day.

Ali Griffiths.

David Pickup, a solicitor, considers the potential pitfalls of helping others...

Supporting people in trouble

Brothers and sisters, ... Carry each other's burdens, and in this way you will fulfil the law of Christ. If anyone thinks they are something when they are not, they deceive themselves. (Galatians 6 1-3)

I am always interfering, in situations where I should not. Sorry, but I do. It is probably because of the job I do, that I want to fix things. Christians naturally want to help others. Churches are loving communities, and we want to do the best for each other.

Sometimes supporting others can be difficult. Some people are easy to help. They know what the problem is and what help they need.

Others are very demanding and always need help. They go from person to person asking for support and do not always follow advice. Then there are those who would never ask for help. They battle on and get exhausted and struggle on their own.

Probably the best helper is the person who can listen and not judge and guide the burdened to find their own answers. Often the person who is best at helping others is the one who has experienced life's ups and downs themselves. We can support others by:

Listening and keeping confidences.

Looking out for someone to make sure they are ok.

Respecting their choices even if we do not agree.

And, best of all, praying to know what to say and when to be quiet.

St Paul reminds us that we should bear each other's burdens, and no-one is expected to carry some things by themselves. The law of Christ that Paul was referring to was the New Commandment Jesus gave... that we love one another.

So, I will carry on trying and sometimes failing to fix things. You never know, I might make things better one day!

Christian Aid Week – 12th – 18th May

Christian Aid is urging its supporters to “push back against poverty” this Christian Aid Week by bearing in mind the coming General Election.

The charity says that “people hoping to represent us” in the next UK Parliament will soon be on our doorsteps, “vying for our vote”.

Christian Aid says that these would-be MPs will: “be in listening mode, keen to hear what makes the voters in their community tick.” And so, urges the charity, Christians can use this opportunity to “show them that your church cares about poverty, and tell them that you expect them to act on poverty too, if they are elected.”

This year the charity has launched the ‘70K Challenge for May’, encouraging its supporters to do a sponsored “Move 70km during May. Walk, run, cycle, however you move is up to you.” Details at: <https://fundraise.christianaid.org.uk>

It was ...

May 2023

The first Sunday in May is Rogation Sunday. This is when many parishes still 'beat the bounds'. Rogation means an asking of God - for blessing on the seed and land. The practice began with the Romans, who processed around the cornfields each Spring, singing and dancing, sacrificing animals, in order to get rid of evil. About 465 AD the Western world was suffering from earthquake and storm. Mamertius, Bishop of Vienne, aware of the pagan custom, ordered that prayers should be said in the ruined or neglected fields. Thus 'beating the bounds' became a Christian ceremonial. It arrived in England early in the eighth century. Each Spring, led by the priest, a little party from the parish would set out with a Cross to trace the boundaries of the parish. They'd implore God to keep their corn and roots and boughs in good health, and bring them to harvest. In the days when maps were scarce, 'beating the bounds' helped remind everyone just where the boundaries were. Do you know yours today?
