General Areas & Upkeep

We want to thank all the volunteers who look after the areas round their monuments and other parts of the churchyard. Please help them by following the guidance. The church receives no outside financial assistance with the upkeep of the churchyard. Gifts to the Development & maintenance fund of Alvaston parish church are always gratefully received.

In the main churchyard Flowers should be left in the vases incorporated in the memorials. The only containers permitted are those built into approved memorials. (Four troughs are provided In the memorial garden for flowers.)

Flowers, and floral arrangements must be removed once they start to die, and seasonal tributes by the end of that season. Synthetic flowers should be removed before they are obviously fake, become bedraggled or faded (and may not contain plastic, metal or glass).

Special areas

New Cremated remains area.

The regulations for this area are set by faculty for the use of the area.

The Only permitted memorial is a desk style memorial 18" x 18" with flat surfaces in Rustenburg Grey. Space in the upper surface for one, two or no cut flower holders. These are installed edge to edge, and back-to-back. Such that the two top surfaces are level with existing memorials. No Base, or foundation is required or permitted in this area. No space is available for additional planting or items in front, behind or beside these memorials.

Memorial Garden

The regulations for this area are set by faculty for the use of the area.

This is an area set aside for the interment of ashes in a garden setting, with seating. Space is provided in 4 troughs for real cut flowers. There is provision for installation of memorial plaques for loved ones in this area, which are required to be supplied and fitted by us. (Plaques may also commemorate loved ones who are buried elsewhere). No other items are permitted in this area.

Please see Memorial garden application form for full detail.

If you have questions in relation to these regulations or wish to make any application, please contact the vicarage

Yours in faith John Whitney, Vicar of Alvaston
