

Exploring Pastoral Care

PARTICIPANTS' PRE-COURSE NOTES

June 2019

In response to God's immense love for us, we seek to be God's people living and telling the story of Jesus:

Dear God, supreme Storyteller, thank you that our lives gain meaning in the pages of your unfolding story.
By the inspiration of the Holy Spirit, help us to live the story of Jesus
so that others can see it;
to tell the story of Jesus
so that others can grasp it;
and be part of the new chapter that you are writing in your enduring love story to the world.

Amen

Lord in this course we come to you to learn about your Kingdom, your love and your world.
May your Holy Spirit be our teacher and guide and may we be listeners
to the voices of each other,
to the voices within us,
and most of all, to your awesome and gentle voice.
You sent your Son to earth from heaven,
the Word for his time, the Word for all time.
May we be people of your eternal Word, spreading your love through our lives each day.
As we take part in this course,
may your Church be encouraged, our ministries enhanced,
and all our lives enriched by the blessing of your Spirit.
Amen

Introduction to the Course

"I was sick and you took care of me, I was in prison and you visited me." Mt 25

Pastoral care is a sign of the life of Christ in a church community. It is to be hoped that all disciples will care and support, not only each other, but the people they encounter day by day. However, the gift of caring does not always come naturally and can always be improved through appropriate training. The need for pastoral care in any community is always greater than the church can address. This course is designed to provide training for a parish, benefice or deanery to hone your pastoral skills so you can share this crucial task with church leaders (lay and ordained).

This course also provides the foundational training for most Lay Pastoral Assistants (LPAs). However, doing this course does not mean you have to become a Lay Pastoral Assistant. Informal pastoral care can and should be offered by all without specific authorisation. The commissioning of Lay Pastoral Assistants enhances rather than inhibits the pastoral ministry of all people. Lay Pastoral Assistants have a specific ministry to offer pastoral care on behalf of the church. As such they also need further training in addition to completion of this course. This course serves as a discernment process for those who are wondering if they are called to serve as LPAs.

Objectives for the Course

- To offer an understanding of the distinctiveness of Christian pastoral care
- To provide training in the basic skills of pastoral care
- To refresh and/or improve participants' listening skills
- To provide basic skills for parish visiting

Anticipated Outcomes for the Course

The course will enable you to:

- Increase your confidence in basic pastoral skills
- Extend the care and support you can offer your community
- Potentially become part of a pastoral team
- Have the foundational training necessary to consider becoming a Lay Pastoral Assistant

The website for the course is:

Further resources for participants and worship leaders are available on the LPA Hub:

The ministry of Lay Pastoral Assistants (LPAs):

Lay Pastoral Assistants play an important part in their communities by visiting and caring for those in need, in the name of the church. As such they need safeguarding training and further discernment in addition to completion of this course. They will also need a ministry specification and a greater commitment to accountability and ongoing training. It may be helpful to leave the start of this discernment process until part way through the course so you can begin to get a feel for whether this ministry is for you. You do not need to make a decision about whether to apply until the end of the course. The final discernment needs to be between you, your incumbent, and your PCCs. A session 9, which is a one-to-one session with your incumbent at the end of the course, will provide guidance on this process.

Course Participants and LPAs may be involved in:

- Welcoming newcomers to both our churches and our communities
- Visiting people in their homes [not just the elderly and housebound]
- Taking home communion
- Visiting families before and after baptism
- Work with children and young people
- Marriage preparation
- Hospital visiting
- Supporting the bereaved
- Prayer and healing
- Hospitality
- Training and nurture, including confirmation preparation & home groups
- Evangelism, e.g. Pilgrim Course; Alpha groups

The Guidance on becoming an LPA handout (given later in the course and available on the website) is designed to help with the discernment process. For those who do feel called to become LPAs, commendation by the Bishop requires:

- Completion of the course with a positive recommendation by the course facilitator
- Approval by their church's incumbent and PCCs
- Completion of safeguarding requirements
- Preparation of a ministry specification with the local church (template provided)
- A solo visit followed by a debrief with a supervisor appointed by the incumbent

The benefits of the commended LPA role include:

- Increased confidence and authority as a result of the commendation
- Recognition in the Diocese and inclusion in Diocesan events
- Enhanced commitment and accountability as set out in the ministry specification

If you wish to become an LPA and your incumbent is not one of your facilitators do make sure he or she receives the Incumbent's notes from your facilitator

Before the course begins

We are delighted that you wish to participate in the Exploring Pastoral Care course and pray that it will be a time of enrichment and growth for you.

The learning on the course will be undertaken in a variety of ways, such as

- work in pairs or small groups
- group discussions
- drawing on personal experience
- watching videos
- case studies
- role play

We ask that you be as open and willing as possible to participate in all the activities and each of the sessions as this will enhance others' learning as well as your own. If some of the material touches on sensitive matters in your own life and you feel you need to take a break for a few minutes, please do so and let your facilitators know. We will assume you are okay to do this on your own, but if not please ask someone to go with you.

It will be useful to bring a Bible with you, especially to the first session. A bibliography is provided of some reading material. This is for interest only and you are not required to read any books for the course. Sometimes there will be preparation to do for the next session. We recommend that after each session you spend a short while reflected on your learning and how it has impacted you. There are some pages at the end of these notes for you to record your reflections. If you wish to become a Lay Pastoral Assistant then you should share these pages with your incumbent. Particularly personal or sensitive material should therefore be recorded separately.
