Welcome to the March Edition of LINK

As bulbs emerge across the parish, a sense of new life may be in the air for many of us. This is true every year of course, but perhaps more so this year as you get used to a new vicar, and particularly as Covid restrictions are lifted and we start to ask what new opportunities might be available to us to gather and connect with one another once again.

There is a lot to look forward to in the year ahead highlighted in this month's edition of LINK. Do note especially that the vicarage garden will be playing host to a plane and flight simulator on March 12th when our mission partner MAF come visiting. All are welcome!

The other major turn in the seasons this month of course is Lent. At All Saints' through Lent we will be looking at the opening chapters of Genesis and God's creation of the world, as part of a focus on Christian perspectives on environmental issues. Our resident eco-church team will be encouraging us to read a great book called "L is for Lifestyle" and to consider fasting from environmentally unfriendly habits in place of the usual chocolate; do look out for more details in Sunday services or the weekly church update.

I'd like to mention one final fresh start, with a thank you to my colleague Revd Anne Elliott, who joined the parish just before lockdown first hit, and who has kept ministry going up at St Andrew's through two very challenging years. Anne has a new stage of life ahead as she prepares for retirement in June, and the church has its own refresh to pray towards as we consider what – or who – will follow her in ministry amongst us. Anne's faithful service here through a very trying season means we can look ahead to what's next for the parish with confidence and enthusiasm, for which I am very grateful.

In Christ, Phil

N.B. There will be no LENT COURSE this year.

Mothering Sunday is 27th March

Proverbs 31:25-28

She is clothed with strength and dignity;
she can laugh at the days to come.

She speaks with wisdom,
and faithful instruction is on her tongue.
She watches over the affairs of her household and does not eat the bread of idleness.
Her children arise and call her blessed;
her husband also, and he praises her.

What have we seen in the All Saints Churchyard ... ?

Sit in the Hordle churchyard for a short hour and you will see what lovely birds we have.

Here are some...

Q: Can you see which name matches which bird??

Nuthatch – forages for insects on tree trunks; is non-migratory and very territorial; makes a nest in a tree hole and can visit our bird feeders.

Long-tailed tit – can you spot him!? Likes branches of trees and lichen to forage in; group together in winter and move quite quickly around the trees; make a dome-shaped nest; look out for them quietly in the Spring.

Kestrel – a hovering hunter that strikes from above. Look up and you might see this razor-sharp-sighted bird looking for small prey in neighbouring fields.

Blue tit and Great tit on a feeder

Why not come and sit for a while in the churchyard and look for yourselves. You could also see birds on our new feeders. Bring some binoculars so you can see them well, and stay nice and quiet. Don't forget to look up into the sky as well. You will feel transformed after even half an hour.

Kitchen Inspection at Memorial Hall

I am pleased to report that we were awarded top marks, classification 5, in a recent food safety and hygiene inspection of the Memorial Hall kitchen. Because of the long lockdown the NFDC Inspector had given us advance warning of the date of his inspection, enabling us to blitz the kitchen before his arrival. Many thanks to the cleaners and the loyal members of the lunch and tea club staff who help to keep our standards high and a special mention to Jan and Terry Read who helped Mike and I give the kitchen a deep clean.

It was brought to my attention by the Inspector during his visit that he disapproved of main meals being prepared in people's homes. The main reason for this is to minimize the risk of food poisoning when food has been prepared in a number of kitchens at home. It is then hard to trace the source of ingredients. His advice, to keep us all safe, was to purchase packaged and labelled food from supermarkets or farm shops so that the source of ingredients can be readily traced. Meals should be prepared and cooked entirely in the kitchen at the Memorial Hall.

Cakes and sandwiches can be prepared at home in a clean kitchen and transported to our Church premises in covered, clean containers.

I am confident that this can be managed as long as it is accepted that these rules are set to keep us all safe.

6. And forgive us our sins, as we forgive those who sin against us (Matthew 6.12)

Before you can honestly pray this petition you must admit that you need to pray it. That is to say, you must have a sense of sin. Nowadays sin is not a popular word. People rather resent being called sinners, as they feel sin is not applicable to their decent, ordinary and respectable lives.

The Greek word in this prayer is better understood as meaning a debt; a failure to pay that which is due, in this case our duty towards God; sadly we are good at self-deception. 1 John 1.8 If we say that we have no sin, we deceive ourselves, and there is no truth in us. We need to face this and pray. It may be frightening to do so because of the penalty associated with the debt. Paul talks of the “wages” of sin (Romans 6.23), but fear is short lived as the payment incurred by our personal sin has been made, even though undeserved, through faith in Jesus as Saviour (Ephesians 2.8,9). The petition asks “how honest am I before God?” about myself and my relationships. Jesus says in the plainest possible language that we have to forgive others, if God is to forgive us. (Matthew 6.14,15). Just remember the order Jesus used – forgive us our ... as we forgive those. We have to be sincere in saying sorry to God (1 John 1.9) but the coin of repentance has two sides - we must forgive others too.

Difficult perhaps ? Put thoughts about your hurt feelings and the situation on paper. Talk with a trusted friend or pastor. Tell God about the hurt done to you, and God will work with you to help you forgive those who hurt you, and wonderfully discover that there can be a blessing somewhere in everything that happens.

Four Life Lessons ...

1. “I’ve learned that I still have a lot to learn.”

Anne's 'Thoughts from the Tiptoe Triangle'

In our generation, Mothering Sunday is far more often associated with those who have cared for us in any way in our upbringing, than to our birth mother. While its origins lie in domestic servants being given a day off work to return to their family home and church, even then there was no specific limitation to mothers.

We all have many people in our lives we would like to thank, and many of these are, in our global generation, far from our own homes. While we may not be able to physically visit them, for any number of reasons, we can still remember them and do what we can to keep in contact, to encourage and thank, and continue to share our lives with, in appropriate ways. God made humankind to live in community, and in our technical age this can be diminished as more time is spent on devices than face to face. Yes, there are many who can keep contact best by using computers and laptops, and for this we can be thankful. Yet for others, technical devices can rob us of the chance to meet in person.

It's all a question of balance, coming back each time to the basic need of each of us to share and support each other, sometimes giving, and sometimes receiving. Both are to be valued, as the giver expresses gratitude and the receiver is uplifted, with encouragement to grow or rest, depending on their age and circumstances!

Who is God calling you to contact, to thank, and to encourage in your life right now?

Four life lessons ...

2. "I've learned that 'making a living' is not the same as 'making a life'."

We have previously learnt about Furzey Gardens at a Men's Breakfast, and some have supported them financially. This year they again seek our help.

2022 is the Centenary of Furzey Gardens!

We are celebrating the pioneering work of the past and looking to the future as the gardens continue to change lives. We're raising money this Lent, to support people with learning disabilities to be part of our Step up For Work Programme, to have training, learn skills to become work ready and be supported in work placements.

We're aiming to raise enough money to fund two people to attend a 12 week "be work ready" training course. With your help they could learn new skills, build their confidence and get work ready in this bespoke in-class training programme. £2000 could provide this training for two people for the full 12 weeks. A donation of £83 could help fund one person to attend one week's training. The Step up for Work programme by Minstead Trust can only operate with voluntary donations

For all of us, starting work is an exciting time, and it is no different for someone with a learning disability. However, they will often face obstacles and challenges, and possible discrimination.

This is Bob (in the middle). Bob completed the full Step up for Work programme, first the in-class training, then his work placement at Hanger Farm Arts Centre café. Minstead Trust supported him and he is now employed by local firm, Milestone Infrastructure.

This is Rhianne, who also successfully completed her training and is now happily working at Paulton's Park.

Bob and Rhianne are really proud of their achievements and we are too! Please can you help this year at Lent and enable more people like Bob and Rhianne to begin their Step up for Work journey at Furzey Gardens. To make a donation go to

<https://www.minsteadtrust.org.uk/charity/appeals/furzey-lent-2022/>

Furzey Gardens is open again from the end of February.

Dear God ...

I find it very hard to believe you love me. There are things about me which I'd rather not tell anyone about; they couldn't love me if they knew. I'd be rejected, lose my friends. There are thoughts, memories and feelings I keep to myself. I keep them secret, but you know them. That's why I find it difficult to believe that you can still love me.

Dear Carolyn,

Well I do, and I want you to talk to me about those things. I forgive people who come to me. It is not good to keep secrets; they can harm you. As well as telling me your secrets, it's good to tell someone you trust, in safety. Bring those secrets into the open and you will find you're not alone, and you can be loved more deeply and more intimately than before. If you share your secrets, others will love you more and you will love yourself more too.

MAF Lands at the Vicarage!

Imagine having to walk four days to reach a doctor over rough jungle terrain, that is the experience of a community living in the highlands of Papua New Guinea. The Doctor lives in the next community, a mere five miles away and yet because of the landscape that journey takes four days. But imagine if there was a small aircraft that could pick you up from your community and fly you to that Doctor, cutting that journey time from four days to ten minutes! That is possible today because of an organisation called Mission Aviation Fellowship.

Mission Aviation Fellowship (MAF) is a Christian Charity that flies light aircraft in to the most isolated communities around the world taking help, hope and healing. For over 75 years MAF has been supporting organisations in over 25 countries around the world, by flying in medical supplies, relief workers, food, spiritual care and anything else that is needed to support the hard to reach communities. Most recently MAF is partnering with World Health Organisation and other organisations delivering much needed Covid vaccines to remote communities as part of the worldwide COVAX scheme.

As part of the support given to MAF by the churches in the parish of Hordle and Tiptoe, MAF will be visiting the Vicarage of All Saints Church in Hordle on Saturday 12th March.

They will be bringing their full size Cessna 150 Display plane to get a feel for what it must be like flying across jungles and swamps in a small light aircraft. There will be a team from MAF on hand to share about the work and how you can become involved in making a difference to reach the isolated around the world.

If you feel confident, you can try and land an MAF plane on the Flight Simulator!

The Vicarage will be open from 10.30am to 3.00pm.

The address is Hordle Vicarage, Stopples Lane, SO41 0HX

Thoughts from my Garden ...

The weather has been so dry and mild lately, it has been a pleasure to be in the garden. I have been preparing the patches of vegetable garden that did not get mulched last Autumn. The seeds are still small and the soil is easy to turn over. I have found one large conker probably buried by the squirrel.

I thought I had escaped mice damage in the greenhouse, but I find I left the cover off the broadbeans and I have had to replace some. I have had sweet peas and marigolds germinating indoors but they also have been eaten since I put them out in the greenhouse.

I went with my daughter to Hilliers Garden near Romsey. They have planted a winter garden which is worth visiting, lots of snowdrops, witchhazels and a variety of daphne bushes scenting the air. When you have the space, you can plant things like dogwood on which the bark will grow in many colours and when you can have a mass of them in green, oranges and reds, it cheers the soul during the winter months. They are quite easy to look after - just cut the growth down in the Autumn and the new growth will colour the gloomy days!

The daffodils are well forward this year - I think they will be over by Easter. But it is nice to see the yellow flowers, and so many are being planted along the roadsides now. I must take a walk in the Forest and check to see if there is any frogspawn yet. The dawn chorus will soon be starting; the robin is often singing, but although I see the blackbird around, he has not yet started declaring his territory. I don't expect I shall have to wait too long!

It will soon be 'get gardening' time!

Four life lessons ...

Parish of Hordle and Tiptoe

Lent Focus 2022

BRINGING GOOD NEWS TO GISANZE

The parish has strong long standing links with Butare Diocese in Rwanda, and supported many projects over the years. This year comes a special request to help towards completion of the church at Gisanze, which has a growing congregation of extremely poor families, widows, and orphans some with HIV, who originally worshipped in a very small chapel building because financially they were not able to build a new one.

Recently the Government closed those churches which did not fit with the demands of new legalisation including Gisanze. Their requirements are cleanliness, with good and big glazed metal windows and doors, hand washing facilities and a minimum of 4 toilets. In order to meet present and future needs, the parish set about building a multipurpose church, to be used for worship on Sunday, and other church /community activities such as a nursery school.

To date they have completed walls and roof using mud and straw brick construction. This traditional building material in sub-Saharan Africa is cooler, cheaper, and requires less energy to make. Pastor Vincent Habimana has sent an estimate of “costings” to complete the build and meet the Government standards to enable reopening for Sunday services. The total amounts to about £4000, and it is hoped to make a good contribution towards this sum during Lent, and so aid the congregation in Gisanze to forward the work of caring and proclaiming the Kingdom of our Saviour.

The opportunity to make donations will be available throughout Lent , with envelopes in the pews to be placed in the Offertory or sent/taken to the Church Office.

Cheques should be made out to Hordle Parochial Church Council and marked “Mission Giving” on the reverse..

4. “I’ve learned that even when I have pains, I don’t have to be one.”

ARTIST IN RESIDENCE

At the end of January we were delighted to welcome into school, our Artist in Residence, Zac Newham. Zac worked alongside our children over five days, creating a wonderful piece of art for us to display in our school.

The exciting collaboration between Zac and his team of Hordle apprentices, involved each and every child placing a single piece of wood, into a piece of

TEAM HORDLE NATURAL ARTWORK

We could hardly contain our excitement to see the finished piece!

In teams of 12, the children patiently listened to Zac as he presented the idea and purpose of the project. The children learnt about different species of trees, their habitats and the animals that live in them. They learnt an enormous amount which they very excitedly shared with us and their families. As a team, they created something truly spectacular and memorable, a special piece of Hordle history.

We are thrilled to share with the community this absolutely stunning artwork.

We are extremely proud of the children's passion and enthusiasm for the project; it is wonderful to hear from them what they have learnt from this.

The project was funded by our lovely PATCH team using donations from the fundraising, you, your families and the community have kindly contributed. A HUGE thank you to you all.

The project not only leaves the school with a stunning piece of artwork to enjoy for years to come, but also provided invaluable, additional learning resources for us to share in future.

We hope you like the finished article as much as we do!

Book of Prayers, Hopes & Dreams

After nearly two years of being unable to engage with our community in the way that we usually would, one of our missions this year is to provide comfort and inspiration to our whole community - both within and beyond our school gates.

As we begin to dare to think beyond the pandemic and start once again to think of the future rather than just the present, we would like to invite you to be a part of our COMMUNITY PRAYERS, HOPES AND DREAMS book - to which everyone and anyone in our community can contribute. We want to create a space where everyone can share their prayers, wishes and hopes with the wider community. Personal or general, local, national or global - every prayer and wish is important.

Once we have compiled our PRAYERS, HOPES AND DREAMS book - we will use it in class and distribute copies to all who would like to receive one. We hope that the book will provide not only solace, comfort and inspiration to those who read it - but also that they will become a picture of a crucial point in history; a record of the thoughts and dreams of our small rural / coastal community in the YEAR 2022.

On 28th March 2020 we closed our doors for the first time in 160 years for the first national lockdown. We gave each child a daffodil - nature's symbol of the end of winter and better times to come. We now celebrate this as an annual tradition, Daffodil Day, which this year will be held in the week commencing 21st March. We will be introducing our plans to create this book to the children on this date and look forward to sharing with our community. We will be sending out details in due course, advising on how you can take part. You will also be able to take part by following the link on our Communications page on the website.

Andy and Terry were spotted taking a well earned coffee break from their Tuesday morning churchyard clear-up session. If you'd like to join them, additional volunteers are always welcome. Usually 2 or 3 times a month but not every Tuesday, so check with Andy 07876 520344.

'Thank you Oakhaven staff and volunteers, you are simply the best.'

For Mark, who is a regular day hospice attendee, Oakhaven Hospice has been a real haven to him, 'It's never a dull place and all the staff and volunteers are truly dedicated and professional, they also genuinely care about you. Without the ongoing support of Oakhaven, life for me would be very dull indeed. I am lucky to have them as part of my life and I am eternally grateful for everything they've done for me.'

We are able to care for one in four people like Mark thanks to gifts left in Wills.

Leaving a lasting legacy to Oakhaven in this way ensures we will be able to continue caring for those in our community when they need us most, helping us to make every moment matter.

Could you help us with a gift in your Will?

A pledge of any size really will make a difference to our future.

Visit oakhavenhospice.co.uk/legacy for more information.

We also offer a free and confidential online Will writing service in partnership with Guardian Angel.

As a friend of Mark's from Oakhaven once said to him,

'I didn't come to Oakhaven to die, I came here to live.'
