

Why doesn't someone cut the grass?

This church has chosen to allow space for wildlife as well as people...

Churchyards form valuable islands of wildlife habitat, providing 'stepping stones' for movement through our urban and agricultural landscapes.

Reducing the frequency of mowing in certain areas allows wildflowers to grow and set seed.

Scan the QR code to find out more:

